ANARCHISTS AND COMMUNISTS IN THE THIRD PARTY. WANT THE RED FLAG

HERE'S A PRETTY MESS.

and Object to Seeing the Stars and Strip Anarchists Capture the Cincinnati

Cincinnati, O., May 6.—[Special.]—A sen-mational state of affairs has been developed in the local committee of arrangements for the industrial conference to organize a new polit-ical party in this city on May 19th.

The meeting to elect delegates from Cincin-natilast Wednesday night was captured by the anarchists, who will have fifteen of the the anarchists, who will have fifteen of the twenty delegates from this city.

This is causing the managers of the movement a great deal of concern. Still another source of trouble is the decoration of Music hall, where the convention is to be held. There are three socialists on the committee, and they strongly object to the profuse use of American flags, and insist that there shall be some red flags in the decorations. They also oppose the selection of any badge which has upon it the stars and stripes.

selection of any badge 'which has upon it the stars and stripes.

Captain Powers, who is here as the representative of the Citizens' alliance to look after the arrangement, is in a terrible stew over the matter. He is an old republican, and a member of the Grand Army of the Republic, and very enthusiastic about flag decorations.

Powers has also got himself into a pickle about another matter. He has never been anything but a republican, and holds to the high tariff ideas of that party. On his own responsibility he decided to have a series of cartoons made for Music hall One of these represents the tariff as a dead issue, and would practically commit the conference would practically commit the conference against any expression on the tariff question. Some of the local finance committee that to put a cartoon of character in the hall would give offense to a large number of western men who think that the tariff is an important issue. The upshot of the trouble is that a majority of The upshot of the trouse is that a majority of the finance committee declare that if this particular cartoon is placed in the hall they will not approve the bill for making it, and that Powers will have to pay for it himself. The latter, who is very obstinate about the matter, ease that the cartoon will be displayed and that it will be paid for out of the jecal and that it will be paid for out of the fund collected.

If there is the same lack of harmony in the conference that there is in the conmittees making the arrangements, the affair will break up in disorder. Capsain Powers has considerable printing to be done, and instead of dividing it up between the two labor papers in Cincinnat, he gave it all to one paper which antagonical that they

FLORIDA SENATORIAL CONTEST. The Signation Unchanged-Mays Fails to Unite the Afliance Forces.

TALDAMASSEE, Fa., May 6.—[Special.]— The senatorial desdlock still has the "Call," and the situation tonight, while materially unchanged, is reguant with expectancy as to the early possibility of the combination being properly manipulated and the winner named.

It is apparent that the anti-Call delegation is disappointed at Mars, the new alliance Moses, who was counted on to rally the recalcitrans alliance supporters from Call. He stands about where his horny-handed predecessor, Spect, did, having fallen off four votes in the cancus tonight, while Call held on like grim death to the numheid on like grim death to the number received last night, when Mays was formally presented. The caucus tonight showed up with ninety-seven represented in person or by proxy. Jenkins let the two debatable proxies, which raised the row last night, go in blank. Then Newland, one of the Suwanee members whose seat is being contested, was voted blank, so that May's position, while slightly weakened, is, apt to re-

Johnson, of Bradford, who went over to May's last night, flopped back again to Call this evening, and honors are comparatively say all around. Yet the anti's are not so ju-poliant as they had reason last night to hope to be bilant as they had reason last night to hope to be.

But two ballots were taken, and they resulted: Call, 50; Mays, 39; blank, 5; Bloxham, 2; Long, I. Sixty-three ballots thus far.

The house is over head and ears in the Suwanes contest and has already spent two afternoon sessions wading through the 200 printed pages of testimony taken in the case by the committee.

The question is on the minority report as a substitute declaring the two sitting members, Newland and High, legally elected. As they are both anti-Cail, the outcome is the subject of much discussion and solicitude. A vote may be reached tomorrow.

DEMOCRATIC GAINS.

Result of Municipal Elections in the West

Indianapolis, Ind., May 6.—Returns from the elections in the second and third-class cities throughout the state show general democratic gains, with the exception of New Albany and Jeffersonville, where the republicans made clean sweeps.

FORT WAYNE, Ind., May 6.—Sollinger, democrat, is elected mayor by minety-seven majority. Nine democratic councilmen out of ten.

CHILIAN WAR VESSELS Receiving Supplies Off the Harbor of Sar

San Direco, Cal., May S.—Last night United States Marshal Garde selzed the Chilian States Marshal Garde seized the Chilian steamer Italia, now receiving supplies in the harbor, and placed Captain Mauzeum under arrest. Telegrams have been passing between this city and the department at Washington, which brought about the above results. Tugboats have left to seize two vessels seen outside.

which brought about the above results. Tugboats have left to seize two vessels seen outside, one of which is supposed to be the schooner Robert and Minnie, and the other a warship belonging to the insurgents which has been hovering around the entrance to the harbor to receive supplies taken on board the Italia. The ship was first sighted about noon yesterday, passing north. Ten hours later she repassed the harbor going south, laying to just north of the Coronado islands. Customs Officer Berry sent a party out to investigate, who reported seeing a large vessel under steam, which they could not approach nearer than two miles on account of her seasuing away from them.

Orders were received from Secretary Blaine to selze both vessels, if found within the three-mile limit, and Marshal Garde and Collector Berry went out last night in different tugs for that purpose. At midnight last night the Italia received forty head of cattle, twenty-five head of sheep and 3,000 pounds of dressed meat from the ferry boat Coronado. The vessel had also received other stores, including 800 tons of coal. As soon as all the provisions and fuel were on board, she expected to leave the harbor and cruise between here and Catalina, to meet the schooner Robert and Minnie, from which she was to take Remington rifles and ammunition. She was expected to sail last evening.

Early this morning the vessel Robert and Minnie was sighted lying off San Diego harbor in Mexican waters. The seizing party who went out last night regurned without making an attempt to seize her, and are now awaiting orders from the attorney general at Washington. The Italia still lies in midstream ready for sailing. The sopposed Chilian warship, seen yesterday, now turns out to be the Panama steamer New York, which for some cause te amed up to the entrance of this harbor.

AN ANTE-MORTEM STATEMENT.

Columbus, Ga., May 6.—[Special.]—This afternoon the ante-mortem statement of J. H. Blakely, who was assaulted by the negro barber, George Sims, and knocked unconscious on Mouday last, as wired THE CONSTITUTION, was taken by a notary. Blakely is in a criti-cal condition, and it was thought best to have his statement while he was capacitated to make it, as death may ensue at any time. Biakely declares that the assault on him was without provocation; that he was at first struck on the arm with a brick hurled by Russell Watkins, and afterward hit on the head with a brick by George Sims. These worthies will be held for trial."

To One Year's Imprisonment for His Crime.

London, May 6.—The trial of Captain Verney, member of parliament for North Buckinghamshire, charged with procuring the governess, Miss Nellie Beokett, for immoral purposes, took place here today. When arraigned this morning, Captain Verney pleaded not guilty to procuring young girls, but pleaded guilty to conspiracy in conpection with Mme. Boullier, of Paris, to procure her. Recorder Sir Thomas Chambers, before [whom the trial took place, accepted this plea and sentenced Captain Verney to one year's imprisonment, without hard labor.

During the trial the court was packed with people eager to witness the last scenes in this sensational case.

Captain Verney, though downcast in appearance, pleaded, in a firm voice, to the charge of conspiring to procure.

Counsel for the defense, in his plea for the prisoner, alluded to the prisoner's distinguished services in the Crimea and in parliament, and undoubtedly won sympathy for the disgraced officer. The recorder, in passing sentence, said that he had come to the conclusion, through the evidence given, that the case of Miss Beckett was not the only case of procuration in which the captain had been implicated and, therefore, he could not lean towards the side of mercy so much as he could have done had it been an isolated case.

The Last Day's Session-Birmingham the Next Place of Meeting.

MOBILE, Ala., May 6.—The annual convention of the district grand lodge No. 7. Independent Order of B'Nai Brith completed its labors today and adjourned to meet next year in Birmingham. The concentration of the reserve fund was deleated by a vote of 4 to 14; the optional endowment defeated by a vote of 38 to 18, and the whole question referred to a committee of three, to report next year. The committee on Jewish persecution recommended that the grand lodge be ever ready to assist persecuted brethren by influence and pecuniary sid and should any emergency arise that would require prompt action, the district officers and general committee be empowered to act. The report was adopted.

Nashville, Tenn., May 6.—[Special]—The Tennessee grand lodge Knights of Pythias today appropriated $2,000 for the Pythian school at Gallatin. Property valued at $10,000 is to be donated for the school. The supreme lodge and Rowene lodge inad each already appropriated $1,000. A home and school will be established for Pythian orphans. $400 was appropriated for prizes for the uniform rank. After full discussion, the grand lodge refused to increase the per diem of members and refuse, to decrease the per capita tax. Charters were ordered issued to fifteen new lodges. The committee on appeals reported and sustained the grand chancellor in every case. Knoxville was chosen as the next place of meeting. The following officers were then elected for the ensuing year: Grand chancellor, Kirk Allen, of Memphis; grand vice chancellor, H. R. Howard, of Tullahoma; grand prelate, W. H. LOOMING UP AGAIN

THROUGH THE REPORT OF THE

FAILING TO PRESENT INDIGTMENTS gainst the Leaders in the New Orl Riot-Discussed at the State Depart-ment-Comment of the Press.

WASHINGTON, May 6 .- The report of the New Orleans grand jury upon the killing of the Italians was a fruitful theme for discussion mong the people of the department of state

It may be said that the findings of the grand jury excited no surprise, for some such con-clusion of the case was expected. The attempt to palliste the infraction of the law by offsetting alleged attempts at jury fixing is depsecated by legal minds of the department, but there is a well-defined opinion that on the whole, the outcome of the case will be benefi-cial in its effects upon turbulent foreign ele-ments in the United States, inasmuch as it will make clear to them the fact that they cannot rely upon treaties to escape responsi-bility to a great republic for their unlawful acts.

The report of the grand jury will, it is expected, reach Scoretary Blaine in the course of time, and figure in the official correspondence between the United States and Italy. There is reason to believe that in some details it differe from the report made to the department of justice by District Attorney Grant, and notably in the matter of the nationality of the

The grand jury's report found that eight of them were naturalized American citizens and that one had declared his intention to become naturalized.

District Attorney Grant, it is believed, found that one of the victims was of Italian nationality, but was an escaped convict, and that another's nationality was se doubtful as to make it unsafe to hazard an opinion. So, at any rate, the Italian complaint will be narrowed down, at least to two persons—one an escaped donviot—for, although the United States has no naturalization treaty with the Italians, the last name has invariably, through comity, recognized our naturalized citizens as free from amena

HAS THERE BEEN A VIOLATION? When the case of these two victims is con-sidered, the question will immediately arise, were the treaty stipulations with the Italians broken? This question is likely to figure in the correspondence between the two governments as soon as the Italian government is ready to fall reasonably into the usual diplomatic method of treating a subject, respecting which they take issue with another nation. Unless it appears clearly that the treaty has been violated, the Italian case falls to the ground, and the leading diplomatic minds of the state depart-ment maintain that this fact cannot be made

WHAT THE TREATY GUARANTEES. The treaty guarantees to Italian citizens in this country the same rights and privileges and the same immunities as are enjoyed by our own citizens, and it is asserted that if any Italian subjects were killed at New Orleans they had the same measure of protection that was accorded to American citizens tion that was accorded to American citizens, who were killed at the same time and for the same reason, and by the same persons. Merever, their families may claim indennity, if it appears that they are entitled to do so. The same measure of popular vengeance might have been inflicted upon native citizens of the United States, and altogether it is not clear to the state department officials that the victims failed in any degree to receive the protection guaranteed by the treaty, which, it may be said does not and cannot insure the lives of foreigners:

In Secretary Blaine's absence there has been no forward move in correspondence. It is learned that Mr. Porter, our minister at Rome, applied to the department of state for leave of absence before the New Orleans affair happened. He has been constantly on duty since March, 1889—more than two cears—and it is customary for a minister to have leave at least once in a year. Moreover, the sickly season is approaching in Rome, so that it is entirely probable that his request will be granted, as indeed would already have been the case had not the trouble reached such an active phase.

American Press Comment.

CHARLESTON, S. C., May 6.—In a long editorial review of the report of the New Orleans grand jury The News and Courier will say:

It is an important, somewhat interesting, and very remarkable document, but it will not give satisfaction to the Italian government, nor will it strengthen the position of the United States in the diplomatic world, or aid in the defense of the Crescent City at the bar of public opinion. The report of the grand jury is very long, and it abounds in high-sounding phrases, but it is vague, indefinite and inconclusive. The report naturally divides itself into two grand divisions; first, relative to the massacre itself. To the first of these by far the larger part of the report is devoted, while the latter is dismissed in the briefest possible space. In fact, the duspression sought to be made is that the provocation was so great that really it was scarcely worth while to take any rotice of the massacre. Let us see, how far this conclusion is justified by the grand jury's own statement. The provocation and manner, so far as we are able to sift it from the mass of verbiage in which the report is involved, consists in an alleged chronic demoralization in the administration of justice in the parish of Orleans, the existence of a murderous society known as the Mafia, the murder of Chief of Police Hennessy, and an alleged failure of justice in the parish of Orleans, was that any justification of massacre? Certainly not, for according to the statement of the grand jury, the very men who organized the lynching and assisted in carrying it out, "the best people of the city of was Urleans" were primarily responsible for that demoralization of administration of pustice in the parish of Orleans, was that any justification of massacre? Certainly not, for according to the statement of the grand jury, the very men who organized the lynching and assisted in carrying it out, "the best people of the city of was of investigation with power to socur the city for witnesses, with the whol CHARLESTON, S. "So far as the grand jury's report goes," says The News and Courier, "the Mada seems to be very nuchan affair of imagination. So that from the statement of the grand jury itself the whole matter of reassnable provocation for lynching fails to the ground. We confess that we are disappointed."

rails to the ground: We confess that we are disappointed."

Augusta, Ga., May 6.—The Chronicle tomorrow will say:

The New Orleans grand jury should have found indictments against the ringleaders of that affair. The situation is an awaward one at home and abroad. Lynchlaw is a serious meases to home institutions and it has come pretty near impairing our foreign relations. The fact that only two of the cleven men killed are Italiam, and that they are outcasts of a weak government, does not and cannot impair the merits of the case. Lynch law is a cruel wrong, it is an insult to our own local governments, and course should not be afraid to bring offenders to justice. JACKSONVILLE, Fla., May 6.—The Times-Union says:

Jacksonville, Fig., May 6.—The Times-Union says:

It is evident that the jury had no other object in view than to justify the action of the crizens. After using many thousand words to this purpose, very few would suffice to state the only fact in which the world is specially interested, namely, that the jury declined to make any indictments. This probably is a neutly indictments. This probably is a neutly which has generally been expected, but it would have been more satisfactory to the nation and would have helped it out of diplomatic complications if there had been as lease a show of trying the leaders of the lynching party. The case, as it now stands, will be rather embarrassing to the government. Public sentiment in New Orleans has an doubtedly been seriously demoralized by the crafty policy pursued by the lottery company. If any portion of the population deprecates the wholessle slaughter of Italians, it is not known outside of the city. The people of more fortunts cities should be lentent in their judgment on this subject.

MOBILE, Ala., May 6 .- The Mobile Register

The good people of New Orleans should not permit this testimany of their sworn grand jury to go to the world as representing the sentiment of the whole, or a larger part of that community. It is impossible that the acts at the parish prison on March 14th involved the entire population of the city and parish of New Orleans. The so-called avengers of Hennessy lynched eleven Italians im the parish prison, but this grand jury, in its report, attempts to butcher the fair fame of the community which it does not fairly represent. The last crime is the worst of the two.

Foreign Comment on the Beneral

London, May 6 .- The St. James Gazette,

London, May 6.—The St. James Gazette, commenting on the findings of the New Orleans grand jury in the lynching case, says:

The jury has done just what might have been expected, and its findings possess polemical interest, which it may be feared. Marquis di Rudi ni will not fully appreciate. If Secretary Blains sticks to his guns, and insists that constitutional anthority has pronounced on the issue that the constitution provides no machinery for the government's going behind the decision of the New Orleans jury, his position will be still more unsatisfactory to Italy than it was at the beginning.

AWPUL STATE OF PUBLIC PEELING. Italy Full of Alarming Rumors of Internal Trouble at Hand

London, May 6.—A letter received here from Rome discloses a number of new facts in regard to the riots which took place there on May Day, and as to the general feating of the people upon the same occasion. According to this letter, public officials at Rome, as well as the people, have been in a state of panie for a week or two. This state of affairs is due to several causes most programment of which are the fall panie for a week or two. This state of affairs is due to reveral causes, most prominent of which are the fall of the ministry headed by Crispi, the accession of the Rudian ministry into power, the strong public demand for an equalization of expenses and receipts without fresh taxation, diplomatic troubles which have arisen between Italy and the United States and finally, the explosion at Pozzo Pantaled, which caused so much damage and slarm in Rome and its vicinity. In spite of all denials and official statements to the effect that the explosion at Pozzo Pantaleo was not the work of socialists or anarchists, Romans are convinced to the contrary.

or anarchists, Romans are convinced to the contrary.

This letter was written previous to the fire which destroyed the barracks and stables of the carabinier yesterday, and which added to the state of uneasiness, creating such an alarm at the vatican that the entire force of Swiss guards were kept on duty all night.

The letter says further that all religious organizations and a majority of the wealthy circizens prepared for disturbance by laying instocks of provisions, fuel, etc., prepared for a state of siege, in fact. The air was full of alarming runnors which gradually grew in importance until it was actually believed that a revolution was impending.

HALL AND JENKINS.

Case. Hardenson, N. C., May 6.—[Special.]— By consent of my counsel, I send you their statement, that I am authorized to use, as fol-statement, that I am authon 28d to deep as lows:

The account of Burgwyn against Japkins has not been passed upon by any court, nor explained intelligently or satisfactorily, though the court has ordered him to show the books and papers on which he relied, and, though examined under oath three days in regard thereto, the plaintiff in said examination, attempted to explain many things and confessed entire ignorance of a great many more, answering positively only two questions out of 117 propounded. He has failed to show any consideration for the greater part of his claims, and nothing more can be done until a referee is appointed, nor till than will the truth be known.

T. T. Hisks,

Now in regard to the infamous stories, furnished by Burgwyn, it was done beyond doubt to deprive me of the help of my friends. In reply to all these wifful and malicious lies, those who know me best can correct them, but to to all these wilful and malicious lies, those who know me best can correct them, but to those who do not, let me say Burgwyn is not the distinguished gentleman and politician, some newspapers have reported, but on the contrary, a man that is regarded at home with suspicion. I have evidence from reliable peopla to prove that he has perjured himself. Instead of being a politician, he has been beaten for the legislature in his own county by a negro. In conclusion, every word he has said regarding Jenkins and my cordinat is a black, infamous, wilful and malicious lie.

LARGE CONFLAGRATION IN PENSACOLA.

SEVERAL BUILDINGS LAID IN ASHES. The Wind Fans the Flames, and They Get Beyond Control Lumber Yards De-stroyed at Long Island City-

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., May 6.-A Pe datasonville, Fila., Bay 6.—A Pensacolas special to The Times-Union says: The most distructive fire which has occurred in Pensacola for years, started in the green grocery and batcher shop of George Neely on Palafox street, opposite the custom house, at '2 o'clock this morning. There was a heavy wind blowing, and in twenty minutes the flames had spread morning. There was a heavy wind blowing, and in twenty minutes the flames had spread over almost the entire block.

The stores of Neely, Cohen Brothers, Coleman, Bonifay and Bell are all located in a one-story brick building. This building was covered with a metal roof and the various covered with a metal roof and the various stores were divided by weoden partitions. Through these partitions the fire easily gained headway and the ceilings were rapidly destroyed. The metal roof is a ruin and many of the store fixtures also. It is impossible today to ascertain the value of this building, but it is learned from one of the owners that the insurance amounted to $4,000, which will probably cover the loss. The fire also destroyed buildings occupied by G. S. Wilkins & Bro, clothing, and Johnson & Langford, books, besides several other smaller ones. Total loss on buildings is about $15,000; jon stocks nearly $50,000.

Lumber Yards Burn.

Long Island Cirr, May 6.—At 10:48 o'clock tonight fire broke out. in Doneaster's iron foundry, near Town creek, and soon spread to the lumber yard of H. F. Burroughs, and to the lumber yard of H. F. Burroughs, and from there to the hay and feed shed of Clark & Sampson, Whiting lumber yards, Hammes stone works and the lumber yards of Tunis, Syms & Co., and J. L. McKnves. In a very short time five square blocks of lumber yards were ablaze. The freight depot of the Long Island railroad caught fire, and at 1 o'clock the new passenger depot of the company, on Borden avenue and East river is threatened. The loss on the property already destroyed is emi-mated at $500,000. The fire is still burning fiercely and the yard of E. L. McClave, next to the depot, is doomed.

Tennessee Coal, Iron and Railroad Company, Mashville, Tenne, May 6.—[Special.]—An adjourned meeting of the stockholders of the Tennessee Coal, Iron and Railway Company will be teld at Tracy City tomorrow, at noon to decide whether or not to accept the offer of the English syndicate of $2,500,000 for the Tennessee property of the company. Colonel A. M. Shook, who will vote President Platt's holdings in favor of the sale, says he is eatisfied the proposition will not carry. Another important question to be considered temorrow is the proposition to exchange the company's holdings of $5,000,000, too one half of the capital stock of the Ensley Land Company, for $500,000 stock in the Southern Steel Company, Mesers. Malcolm and Baldwin, of New York, and Thomas Barrett and R. D. Frayer, of Memphis, will attend tomorrow's meeting. Tennessee Coal, Iron and Railroad Co.

Patrick Mackin died at Stone Mountain yesterday, after a short illness. He was a stonecutter by trade and a native of Ireland, where he leaves a wife and two children. He was twenty-six years of age and a young man greatly beloved for his many excellent qualities. The body will be brought to this city, by Undertaker Frank Billey, today.

aging Business Outlook of the Most Distinctive City in the North State.

CHARLOTTE, N. C., May 5.—[Special Correspondence Constitution.]—The business outlook of Charlotte was never more encouraging. Every class of trade shows an increase that is both hopeful and gratifying. There is not a city in the south that can make better. ive showing than Charlotte. This ies to her growing manufactories, which ady excel those of any other city of 12,000 already excel those of any other city of 1,000 people of my knowledge; her splendid banking system, that shows a combined capital of $1,100,000 and a surplus of $1,000,000; her magnificent cotton trade that shows yearly receipts amounting to 175,000 bales; her far-reaching mercantile interest that shows an increase of 25 per cent within the last year; said the vice was growth represented in her crease of 25 per cent within the last year, and the vigorous growth represented in her present building activity.

All these things indicate thrift and hope.

All are so many forerunners of the great growth that is to bless this city in the future. It is absolutely impossible for a visitor to come to Charlotte and make a business investigation without being favorably impressed with the lace and its surroundings.

Aside from her excellent dirt roads, which are being improved by macadam, she has a splendid railroad system that gives her an outet in all directions. The Richmond and Danlet in all directions. The Kichmond and Dan-ville main line runs through the city, furnish-ing a northern and coast connection and guaranteeing her a rate of freight charges that compares favorably with those enjoyed by all other representative southern cities; then there is the Charlotte, Columbia and Augusta, which connects at Augusta with all Florida points; the Atlantic, Termessee and Ohio, runs from Charlotte to Statesville, where it forms a connection with the Western North Carolina, which furnishes another connection with the Charleston, Cincinnati and Chicago. In addition to these roads, Charlotte will soon have a line connecting with the Seaboard Air-Line, at Lancaster, S. C., and it will also be the terminus of the Roanoke and Southern, which gives her two other outlets north and south. Thus it will be seen that Charlotte is the focal point of the Richmond and Danville terminations, and then when these other lines, which are in and then when these other lines, which are in course of building, are completed, what is it that can stand in the way of her triumphal commercial advance?

Charlotte smiles at competitive neighbors, and well she may, for she is at once the most accessible railroad point in the state, gind surrounded by the most distinctive back country. The lands surrounding this place are among the finest that are to be found in the south, and their splendid adaptability as well as luxuriant fertility are features of real merit. Her tax values have shown a steady rise for

Her tax values have shown a steady rise for the last few years, but now improvement is so universal that prices and values will jump amazingly before another annual report. Charlotte's low tax rate and splendid health, schools, churches and citizenry are drawing cards that are causing many to leave less distinctive homes in order to take up a residence at a place where there is real activity. While here can be found a good opening for any line of business or profession, I especially commend it as an absolutely safe point for several live real estate men. Really, the fact that three agencies continue in control of the market is astonishing. No better opportunity is offered this class of business men than an investment in Charlotte.

class of business men than an investment in Charlotte.

The sound sense of these suggestions is clearly shown when the reader considers that she is the central point of a population of 200,000, made up of Mecklenburg county and the surrounding counties of Iredell, Cabarrus, Lincoln, Gaston, N. C., and York and Lancaster, S. C. She is only fifty miles distant from the boundaries of any of these counties, and is easily accessible on railroads from all points of the compass. This makes her a distinctive point for manufacturing and merchandising. The manufacturing enterprises, covering cotton mills, iron works, machine shops, furniture factories, planing mills, oil mills, fertilizer manufactories citching factories, manufactories of wood and knitting mills, have all had a gratifying career of success, while the mercantile interests are increasing every day.

The limited area which has been pointed immediately surrounding the city, and git a large business at hand, is not its territory by any means. Charlotte is largest city between Danville on the distant 141 miles, and Columbia on the distant 141 miles, and Columbia on the h, distant 106 miles; between Wilmington on the east, distant 187 miles, and Asheville on the west, distant 160 miles; besides, its location and railroad facilities make it the best distributing point between Richmond and Atlanta. Charlotte's growth, therefore, considing its advantages, is natural.

The public buildings just completed and in course of erection would be a credit to any city of 50,000 people.

The public bulldings just completed and in course of erection would be a credit to any city of 50,000 people.

The custom house is a handsome structure, built of pressed brick, with terra cotta and white stone trimmings. It fronts 106 feet on Trade street and sixty-six feet on Mint street. It contains a basement, two stories and an attic. On the eastern corner is an imposing tower eighty-four feet high. The signal office occupies this perch. The basement is used as a storage room, and the heating apparture is also located there. The entire front floor is used for the purposes of the postoffice. The United States court room occupies the second floor, where are also located offices for the revenue and court officials. The first floor is laid in tiling of a beautiful pattern. Vaults for the use of the postoffice department are conveniently located. There are three entrances, the main entrance being on Trade attreet.

trances, the main entrance being on Trade attest.

Congress appropriated $85,000 for the building alone, and an appropriation of $7,500 has been inserted for it in the deficiency buil. Mr. J. E. Tinsley, of Staunton, Va., secured the centract for the construction of the building, his figures being $84,800.81.

Then there is the handsome city half in course of erection, which was designed by Atlanta's own Norman. The building is to cost $42,000.

The new city half to be built in this city at course of erection, which was designed by Atleants's own Norrman. [The building is to cost $42,000.

The new city hall to be built in this city at the corner of Tryon and Fifth streets will be an imposing structure. It is to be built of brick, with brown stone trimmings, steps, etc.
The basement of the main building will be up to watertable, of brown stone ashlar rock face.
A flight of stone steps will lead from Tryon street to the main floor, and one from Fifth street to basement.
The tower will be a prominent feature of the building, as it will be 170 feet high above the pavament. All the triummings will be elither brown stone or galvanized from. The stone trimmings will extend over 110 feet in height, above that they will be of fron.

The main building will front on Tryon street eighty-six feet, and extend on Fifth street 102 feet, will contain a basement and two floors above. The basement floor will nomain a large hall, police courtroom, police room, private office of chief of police, closets, etc. Connected with this basement is a onestory annex, containing prison cells, the cells for females being separated from the cells for remales by a brick wall.

The main floor contains the various offices for the city officials, vault, closets, etc., with espacious halls. On each side of the main entrance hall is a wide stairway leading to the second floor, which contains a large hall over 60x15 feet, also a gallery to seat 500 persons.

But building activity is vigorous on all hands, all of which goes to indicate that Charlotte is destined to be a great city.

It will be well if the reader keeps in mind the dates of asle of Dilworth, her magnificent meaning and 22d.

The LINE OF MARCH.

Promptly at 100 clock the line of march was formed directly in front of the hotel on Mulberry street:

The different commanderies marched from the hotel and formed battallon, when they were turned over to the officer of the day, S. H. Sheppard. After the battallon was formed, Commander Sheppard gave way to Captain General Baldwin.

Immediately the line of march was taken up, headed by Card's band, with thirteen pieces. To the stirring air of "On to Victory," they moved off in the following order:

St. Omer Commandery, Macon, forty men; Grand Captain General William Pitt Baldwin commanding the battalion.

St. Aldemar Commandery, No. 3, Columbus, ten men.

us, ten men. DeMolay Commandery, No. 5, Americus, six mer.

William Tracy Gould Commandery, No. 6, Forsyth, eight men.
Georgia Commandery, No. 11, Augusta, four men.

Rome Commandery, No. 8, Rome, ten men.
Cœur de Lion Commandery, No. 4, Atlanta, ten men. Palestine Commandery, No. 7, Savannah,

Paiestine Commandery, No. 7, Savannan, eighteen men.
Grand Commandery of Georgia, twelve men. Fifteen carriages containing lady visitors.
The battalion moved up Second street to Cotton avenue, to Poplar street, to Third street, to Plum street, to Fourth street, along that street back to Cherry street, thence to Second street and to the commandery rooms on Cotton avenue. The Knights then marched to the headquarters of the order where refreshments were served and a short time spent in social enjoyment.

IN SESSION. IN SESSION.

After this the commanderies went into regu lar session.

Only routine business was transacted at the morning session, nothing being done of special interest.

A SPLENDID REPAST. At 11 o'clock the ladies of the res knights iserved a splendid repast at the Hotel Lanier to the lady visitors. YAARAB TEMPLE.

YARAB TEMPLE.

At 6 o'clock this afternoon the visiting members of Yaarab Temple, Ancient Arabic Order of Nobles of the Mystic Shrine Oasis, of Atlants, paraded the streets in full dress.

At the meeting of the Mystic Shrine tonight at the lodgeroom, the orders were conferred on sixteen novices, who began their weary pilgrimage across the 'burning sands."

PUBLIC EXERCISES.

Tonight, commencing at 7:30 o'clock, public devotional services were held at the First Baptist church. An eloquent and interesting address was delivered by Sir Knight MoNeil, of Columbus. The music was beautiful, and was delightfully rendered by the combined choirs of the Methodist and Baptist churches, tonight.

In Honor of Sensy.

Macon, Ga., May 6.—[Special.]—May 12th of each year is known at Wesleyan Female college as "Benefactor Day," so called in honor of George I. Sensy, of Brooklyn, N. Y., the great philanthropist who gave $125,000 to Wesleyan. May 12th is Sensy's birthday, and the occasion is always celebrated by the Wesleyan girls, who give a public exhibition. This year the Tyrolean queen will be presented.

The Boy Preacher.

Rome, Ga., May 6.—[Special.]—The First Methodist church is holding a great revival. Rev. Mr. Burrow, the boy preacher, from the mountains of Tennessee, delivered an interesting sermon last night. The church was crowded to its utmost capacity. Extra seats were provided, and they were filled.

The boy preacher is of slender build, with a voice as soft as a girl's, and appears to be about eighteen years old. His manner of delivery is very attractive. The andience laughed with him and also prayed with him Columbus Dramatic Association.

AN EXCITING MEETING

HELD BY THE DRUMMERS AT THEIR

Association Almost Ruptured by Wrangle Among the Members—An Amicable Settlement.

Augusta, Ga., May 6.—[Special.]—The Southern Travelers' Association came near being ruptured—in fact it split all to pieces at the morning's session of the convention. The rouble all grew out of the election of officers. It was generally understood that Mr. Carey B. Townsend, of Savannah, was to be elected president and he was placed in nomination for the position. The convention was thunderstruck and never more supprised than when Mr. Mills, of Chattancoga, nominated Mr. John W. Greene, of Atlanta, for president. That produced the clash and caused great ex-

Mr. Mills, of Chattanooga, nominated Mr. John W. Greene, of Atlanta, for president. That produced the clash and caused great excitement.

Chattanooga and Rome went strongly with Atlanta for Greene, who received thirty-eight votes and was declared elected. Savannah, Augusta, Macon and Jacksonville voted thirty-five votes for Townsend.

Greene's election was a disappointment to Townsend's friends and created considerable wrangle. Atlanta having carried her point in choosing the president, Townsend's friends determined that they should have everything—the offices and the next convention.

For first vice president Atlanta nominated Henry Lansdell, of Rome; Augusta nominated George Allen for that office. Atlanta had with her her greatest voting espacity and Lansdell was elected.

James May, of Augusta, was elected second vice president over Roger Williams, of Atlanta. Atlanta's crowd voted for May, and Townsend's combination voted for Williams. May resigned his office as soon as elected.

At this juncture the Atlants branch saw with what spirit the other side was trying to give Atlanta every officer, which practically meant the breaking up of the association. Atlanta then moved for a reconsideration and withdrew Mr. Greene after he had been elected president. Mr. Lansdell also resigned.

This action kind of harmonized things and brought the factions together again, and after pacific speeches were made a nominating committee, composed of one from each branch, was appointed to nominate a slate of officers.

The committee reported the following ticket, which was elected: President, Carey B. Townsend, of Savannah; first vice president, M. E. Strauss, of Jacksonville; third vice president, W. Fleming, of Augusta; directors, J. A. Williams, of Augusta; first vice president, M. E. Strauss, of Jacksonville; third vice president.

Townsend, from Savannah post of drummers, presented Master Clitton Lansdell, of Rome, a junior member of the association, the Augusta and treasurer, which appointment wai ratified.

The Southern Tr

with which members of the association will deal.

Chairman Townsend, of the railroad committee, made an elabilate and sound report. He reported the inability to get a hearing before the railroad association and the refusal of the railroad association and the refusal of the railroad association to go to work and make efforts to have the railroad rates reduced to 2 cents a mile to the public in general by state legislation.

The convention adjourned sine die at 8 o'clock.

SCOTT THORNTON IN ATHENS.

He Disappeared After the First Act and the Students Can't Find Him. ATHENS, Ga., May 6.-[Special.]-The stu dents packed the opera house tonight for the performance of "Richelieu" by Scott Thornton. There was only one act. dents had things their own way, and the police were powerless.

Nothing like it ever happened before, here or anywhere else.

Scott's fame had preceded him. The market for bad eggs here today was something unpre-cedented. When this stock was exhausted— it was exhausted—substitutes of all sorts were provided. The entire college attendance, practically, was on hand when the curtain went up.

The scene beggars description. Pander ium was discounted.

The curtain fell about the middle of the first act. Richelieu disappeared amidst a shower of cabbages, potatoes, eggs and the like.

like.

In reply to the appeals for order the students promised to be quiet if Mr. Thornton would make a speech.

The tragedian failed to respond, and the students began hunting for him.

Mr. Thornton eluded them, and up to a late hour tonight all efforts to locate him have failed.

The students, who are still looking for him at an early hour this morning, say that no personal violence is intended or will be allowed—all they want is a speech.

As the telegraph office closes in Athens there is nothing to add, as Mr. Thornton has not been found.

One Man Instantly Killed and Two Others so Badly Injured that They Will Die.

IAWRENCEVILLE, Ga., May 6.—[Special.]—Three miles east of this place, at 2 o'clock this' afternoon, on the works of the Lewis brothers, on the Georgia, Carolina and Northern road, J. H. Henley, white, was instantly killed and Charles Proctor, colored, was torn almost into fragments, and Will Hurrington, colored, had his body bruised all over and probably both eyes put out. Henley's head was blown off with the exception of a part of the right side. He was beyond recognition. His brains were scattered on the cut and on each side of the embankment. He was thrown forty feet into the air and fell sixty feet from where he into the air and fell sixty feet from where he was standing when the explosion occurred Proctor will probably die before morning. His eyesight is destroyed, his right arm badly out in several places, and two or three pounds of flesh torn from the body between the shoulder and right breast, leaving an ugly and dangerous wound. Henley was foreman, but was springing a hole in order to make room to be a company of the process of newder to make room. for kegs of powder to make a blast when for kegs of powder to make a blast when the explosion occurred. He was twenty-five years of age. He had no wife or children, but a mother living at Jonesboro, N. C., and a young lady friend, to whom, it is said, he was engaged, who signed herself "Cora" in her letters to him, and resided at Greenback, Tenn., and a brother in Sanford, N. C. He had an accident policy of $5,000 with the Southern Accident Company at Knoxville, Tenn. Hundreds of people have flocked to the scene of the horrible phe all the afternoon. Henley had on his per-son a gold watch, which in the disaster was cut loose from the chain around his neck and thrown from his vest pocket over fifty feet from where his body was jound.

GREENE COUNTY'S COLT SHOW. Progress of Stock-Raising-Good Price

Greensboro, Ga., May 6.—[Special.]—Greene county every year is making longer strides in the matter of stock and cattle raising. A few years ago the county spent from 500,000 to $75,000 per annum for foreign-bred mules, horses and cattle, but this amount has been cut down each year, and we doubt now if more than half the sum is sent abroad for stock. You can find scarcely a farmer in the county who does not raise one or more colts each year, and this is comparatively a pick-up. The climate of Greene is peculiarly adapted to this business, while well-watered meadows, sodded in the famous Bermuda grass, renders the expense of raising the colts a merely nominal sum.

sodded in the famous Bermuda grass, renders the expense of raising the colts a merely nominal sum.

For a couple of years past impromptu colt shows have been held in the county, and this has had the effect of stimulating the industry. Farmers have seen how much money their neighbors were making in this line on a small expense and less trouble, and they were drawn to a greater or less extent, into the business it has been demonstrated that a mare will foal a colt every year, and at the same time beable to do almost as much farmwork, and especially in the qultivation of the grain crops. A good colt at three years of age brings from $100 to $150, sometimes in excess of this amount. Indeed, the other day we were witness to the sale of a fourteenmonths'-old colt, and $100 was the sum paid. The expense of raising, as stated above, is merely nominal.

'The exhibits have been so successful and have so much stimulated the industry, that a number of our stockmen are organizing a regular association. They will purchase a numberiof acres of ground, erect suitable buildings and prepare for a great display the coming fall. Now, that interest has been aroused in stock, raising, those most interested are endeavoring to secure an improvement in the bread. It is as easy, if not easier, to raise a fine horse as one inferior. Several blooded sires, registered and from the best strains in the union, have been brought in, and the quality of our horses will be steadily increased. The possibilities in this particular for our county are great, and in a few years a Greene county raised animal will be a guarantee of its excellence, as much as now prevails in regard to Kentucky. xcellence, as much as now prevails in regard o Kentucky.

Mis. Daniel and her daughter, in the southern part of this county, have loomed up as agricultural heroines of a high type. The story of their prosperity as told by a couple of gencultural heroines of a high type. The story of their prosperity as told by a couple of gentlemon of undoubted veracity, is to the effect that they were living together three years ago in almost destitute condition. A gentleman, inspired with the spirit of the good Samaritan, offered them aid in the rental of several acres of land on fairly easy terms—that they would pay the rent at the end of the year—trusting to their honesty in the fulfillment of the contract, they having nothing to put up as collaseral. The old lady and her daughter made a covenant with each other to the effect that one would mauage the domestic and business affairs, while she other would risse the crop. Miss Daniel, to whom the task of managing the farm fell, took an ax and went into the woods and made a plow stock from a sassafras tree, broke a little built that was thrown in with the land, planted and raised the best ten acres of cotton and corn that was raised in Baldwin county. They paid for the land and raised cotton and corn enough to make them more than happy. They have already begun work for the present year and if fortune doesn't change, it will not be long before Mrs. Daniel and daughter will be the richest planters in Baldwin county. Their history ought to be written in serial form and scattered broadcast throughout the territory of the Farmers' Alliance.

Preparing for Commencement.

GREENSBORO, Ga., May 6.—[Special.]—Professor J. L. Caldwell and his accomplished assistants, Mrs. A. A. Hightower and Miss Claude Middlebrooks, are making preparations for a most interesting commencement at the close of the season. Dr. J. B. Howthorne, of Atlanta, has consented to delive: the commencement sermon on Sunday, the 28th of June. The cration will be by one of the most gifted of Georgia's orators, and the exercises of the weak will be exceedingly interesting. The Thomas Stocks Institute is one of the best educational institutions in the state, and our people are very proud of it. The commencement season is being looked forward to with keen interest and pleasant anticipations.

Want the County Seat Removed.

SAVANNAH, Ga., May 6.—[Special.]—The progressive residents in and around Ellabell, Bryan county, want the county seat removed from Bryan Courthouse to their town. The plan is to cut off the lower part of Bryan and let Chatham annex 1t, and then take a slice of the lower end of Bulloch and add it to Bryan. Many Bulloch county people are said to favor this. Bryan is sixty miles long and only ten or twelve miles wide. Ellabell has railroid connection with the outside, which is the great advantage urged over Bryan Courthouse. The residents of the latter place oppose the change

KILLED WITH A HOE. A TRAGEDY IN GREENE COUNTY,

A Fight Between Two Negroes-One Strikes the Other with a Hoe with Fatal Effect.

GREENSBORO, Ga., May 6 .- [Special.]-Bad blood and warlike propensities still seem to be predominate among the negroes in some portions of Greene county. There have been two very serious cutting scrapes within as many weeks, both of which were reported to THE CONFITUTION at the time, and the climax has been reached by a killing, which occurred year. been reached by a killing, which occurred yes-terday about noon, four miles below White

Joe Grimes killed Bill Williams, and a hoe was the instrument. The facts, as we have been able to gather them, look like murder. Those facts are as below:

Both negroes have been employed on the plantation of Mr. Sam Leary, one of the leadmiles south of White Plains. Yesterday at noon, when the hands knocked off for dinner, Williams went to a tree near by and lay down. In a few ninutes he was sound asleep. Grimes, who noticed how serenely he was sleeping, began to throw small rocks at him.

He succeeded in waking Williams up, who, in a good humor, asked him to stop. But Grimes continued, and finally a stone struck Grimes continued, and finally a stone struck Williams in the face. Williams jumped up, and taking the small end of a hoe handle, struck Grimes a sharp blow over the head. The blow tid not stagger Grimes, but it made him mad. He seized another hoe and made at Williams, who, our informant tells us, was not mad nor excited. He grasped Grimes's arm and held him off, at the same time cautioning him; to be quit and behave himself. For several momenta, they remained in this position, and Williams, thinking Grimes was over his anger, released 1 tim, saying:

"Put dewn you'r hoe, and stop all this foolishness."

"Put down you't hoe, and stop all this icol-ishness."

The words were; to sconer out of his mouth and Grimes had sca reely been released, when he raised the hoe and brought it down with terrible/force|upon Wi Uliams's head. Williams sank to the ground, his skull laid open and his brain oozing out.

The hands who were in other parts of the field had witnessed the scuffle, but never dreamed of anything serious until they saw Grimes strike and William s fall. They rushed Grimes sirike and Williams I fall. They rushed to the place, and as they did so Grimes made off. When the hands reached Williams he was barely alive and in a new minutes was dead. He could not speak when they came up. In the excitement Grimes was for otten, and therefore made good his weape. Great excitement has been created allung the negroes in the neighborhood, and they have been scouring the woods for the murders, a warrant having been sworn out for his arrest. Our informant states that the negroes are a much exercised, looking on it as a deliberate murder, that should he be captured the state may not be troubled with the expense of his trial and conviction.

FREE TICKETS.

But Not So Cheap as They Looked on First Appearance.

A free ride and a barbecue were the inducements that attracted another large crowd to Adams Park yesterday.

At about 8 o'clock the cars left filled in a manner otherwise than comfortable. When the train arrived as Macon, a large number who the train arrived at Macon, a large number who had evidently not gone with a view of purchasing property, got off to spend the time in the Central City.

The rest went on and after getting the benefit of a barbecue served by a Mr. S. Issaes, the sale of lots began. Colonel George Adair was the auctioneer, and he afforded fun for the crowd, and sold seventy-three lots for $767 at the same time.

crowd, and sold seventy-three lots for $757 at the same time.

At about dusk the train departed for Atlanta. About forty-five minutes afterwards you could have seen a number of people who had been waiting for something, stand and watch that something dash by at more than a smail's pace and disappear in the distance. This was the portion of a party which had gone to buy lots and now have lots of regret that they didn't. The disappointment and return fare, including board and lodging over night at Macon, will be much dearer than Adams' Park property.

The train had reached Stockbridge, thirteen miles from here, at about 1:16 o'clock. It was at this station that the passengers were brought to a sudden stop. A car just before them was standing on the crossites and just wouldn't move on. The crowd saw at a giance the inevitable and settled back for a patient wait. It was a philosophical conclusion.

At an early hour this morning those same COUNTY COMMISSIONERS.

Several Matters of Interest Considered-An At the meeting of the county commissioners held yesterday, several matters of general in-terest were brought up for consideration.

Councilman Sawtell went before the com missioners to ask that a new street, to be called Atlanta avenue, be worked out from Capitol avenue, near the end of Ormewood street, to Grant park. The commissioners did not pass on the matter, but will visit the route of the proposed street and then decide whether they will have it opened.

Mr. Sawtell also appeared before the commissioner in behalf of a committee from the general council, and requested that the commissioners consider the propriety of the county paying a part of the expense of building the Forsyth street bridge, and that at their next meeting they grant a hearing to the full committee.

Reunion There.

The Elks will be represented at Louisville. They held a meeting last night and decided to send a delegation to the reunion on the 27th and 28th in the Falls City.

Those selected were Mr. Tom Cobb Jackson, Mr. Harry Snook, Mr. John H. Raine, Dr. Dan Howell, Mr. Sam Hall and Dr. W. F. Westmoreland. Besides these others wifl go along, and quite a large number will avail themselves of the opportunity to attend this gathering.

The railroads have announced reduced rates for the occasion and everything points to a thoroughly successful affair.

LOCAL LACONICS.

That Tennessee Convict.—Sam Jones, the negro arrested in West End and who was found with shackles on, still rests in jail. His story about escaping from a convict camp in Tennessee led the county officials to telegraph to Nashville, but as yet no reply has been received.

A Blind Tiger.—Floyd Sommers, a negro, who ma a little shop on the corner of Wheat and utler streets, was arrested last night on the sarge of selling liquor without a license. Over a allon of whisky was found on the premises, to-ther with drinking phases, and other parahermilia usually found in such resorts.

Rapid Transit for Atlanta.

We are convinced that the city coun ell, in taking action on the plans now before it to enable the consolidated street car companies to provide rapid transit for Atlanta, will have in view the rights and interests of all our citizens. It is to be borne in mind that our present clumsy and antiquated tramway system is the only hampering element in the city today-an element that stands and has stood in the way of progress for many years. It has delayed our progress and retarded our growth and tied us down to methods with which the active and modern spirit of Atlanta is not in aympathy.

We have already ventured some gustions in regard to the plans for rapid transit which are before the council for its approval, but the matter is so portant, and the results of a mistake at this time would be so serious and farreaching, that we desire to repeat and emphasize all that THE CONSTITUTION has said on the subject. The question of rapid transit on the old lines of street railway is one which affects the interests of all our citizens as intimately and as thoroughly as any that has arisen in the past or that is likely to arise in the future; and the council that has charge of it has a great responsibility resting on its

It is understood that there is objection on the part of some citizens to the granting of the privileges asked for on certain streets. These objections should be met by the council in the spirit that represents the wishes and desires of the entire community. The policy that has for its purpose the greatest good to the greates number will, in municipal, as in state and federal affairs, commend itself to the people and receive their endorsement. It is the duty of the council to guard the rights of the people against possible agressions of corporations that ask for special privileges, but nothing is gained, and the best interests of our citizens are needlessly sacrificed by throwing unnecessary obstacles in the way of a system of rapid transit that will place Atlanta on an equality with other and less promising cities in this respect.

In Chicago, where the system of rapid transit is superior to most American cities, there was, for a time, objection to double tracks on some of the principal residence streets; but it is worthy of note that this objection has been wholly overcome. Experience has demonstrated the fact that double tracks, flush with the paving, are in every way more comfortable and convenient than single tracks with a system of dangerous frogs and turn-outs. The result is that the double tracked streets of Chicago are among the most popular driveways. Common sense would suggest that double tracks, properly laid, are more convenient and more agreeable than a single track with series of a dozen or more turn-outs, some of them nearly half a mile in

The Grand Jury of New Orleans The presentments of the grand jury at New Orleans, printed in the dispatches yesterday, constitute an American docume creat interest. They cover a good deal of nd, and go into the details of the history of the affair that led to the execution of the Italian assassins. They show a desperate condition of affairs, all of which are grouped around the events that have created such a stir in this country and in Such were the loose methods of the courts that the work of the Mafia was carried on with impunity until Chief Hennessy, with American energy, captured a Mafia nal who was wanted in Italy. He was ned that, if he turned this Sicilian murer over to the Italian authorities, his own ald pay the penalty. Then came the issination, and the arrest and trial of the ian assessins. The loose methods of the rts and the loose morals of the men found. No grand jury can indict a whole people. The law itself is the creation of the people. The law itself is the creation of the people, intended for the protection of their lives, property and rights. When it falls, in any large sense, to accomplish this, the peo-ple are justified in taking charge of matters and blowing the breath of life into the dry bones. When the machinery for carrying the law into effect falls through incompe-tence or corruption, the people are justified in taking matters into their own hands, for it is their sovereign will, which is the law

These conclusions the grand jury has drawn, and it could draw no other. What the people of New Orleans accomplished was not the mere execution of a few misera-ble assassins—that was, indeed, a pitiful result; they have resurrected the law itself, and have put the wrong-doers on notice that, although the law itself may fall, the source of it all is still fresh, alert, vigorous and un-compromising. And this is a lesson that needs to be emphasized in other cities be-

The action of the convention in reques ing the legislature to appropriate $100,000 for the purpose of enabling the state to make an exhibit at the world's fair in Chicago in 1893 will, in our judgment, be generally approved. It must be admitted that able lawyers differ in regard to the constitutionality of such an appropriation, but many hold that it is as much for the welfare of the state as the appropriation for the geological bureau, and it is argued with considerable force that, if the money appropriated comes out of the income derived from the state road, no constitutional provision will be violated. There seems to be no question concern ing the constitutionality of an appropria tion through the agricultural department to collect and exhibit our products, and in this way it will be easy to arrange for an exhibit at the world's fair.

As the Empire State of the South, Georgia cannot afford to go unrepreented at this great industrial festival of all the nations of the earth. We have only to properly advertise and exhibit our products, resources and advantages to cause the capital and enterprise of the world to rush in this direction. The world's fair offers us the opportunity of a generation. There will be no similar occasion for a long time to come. If the legislature sees its way clear making the desired appropriation, private subscriptions will swell the amount to a handsome sum, and the people of our state will have an exhibit that will advertise our commonwealth and greatly aid its progress and prosperity.

In some way, and at any cost, Georgia must make the best possible showing at Chicago. It will be very mistaken and expensive economy if she allows this chance to slip, and lags behind the procession in which her southern sisters will the observed of all observers. In some way we must get there, and itstrikes us that the convention of yesterday has pointed out the right way. Its proceedings will be read with lively in-

The Other Side.

The New Orleans tragedy has called forth wholesale denunciation of Italian immigration. The immigrants have been freely described as cutthroats, ready for any deed of booty or blood.

It would be well to look at the other side of the question. We should not be unjust even to an Italian.

In the report of Mr. F. L. Dingley, made to the department of state in October last, the character of Italian immigration is thoroughly reviewed. He states that th "logical genius of a people, where institu-tions and laws are the germs of modern government and law, is potential even in its illiterates." For illustration he describes ship load of emigrants from Naples.

"Obviously," says the consul, "in this group of several hundred there is hardly one who ever has been a dweller in cities. They are families, more than individual adventurers; rustics, clad in homespun, faces brown hands horny, vigorous in body; but if illiter ate not stupid, if poor not paupers. In the battle of ideas regarding slav In the battle of ideas regarding slavery, New England won, and has for years held the leader's place. Grown bold by victory, the culmination of Cape Cod partisanship was reached when half a dozen western te itories were created into states. Only to ate have the New England statesmen overed that the balance of power thus thrown to the west has worked to her own disadvantage. The New England manufact turers complain bitterly that the McKinley bill discriminates against them and in favo of the west.

Nor is that the worst. When the large states of the west pass necessary measure through the house, to find defeat in the sen ate, as they did in the case of the silver bill. through the votes of senators from rotter boroughs like Rhode Island, Vermont an New Hampshire, they will want to kno the reason why. Why should a territor which could be dropped into South Da kota without being noticed, have twelve otes to two.

The demand will be made for represents ion according to population,

The only answer New England can make ill be to hoist the flag of state's rights, It is doubtful if the southern states take much interest in the struggle. Nev England will have to accept the situation as did the south, and thus be relegated to as unimportant place in the union.

It Works Both Ways. The outrageous attack of an Italian t Florence upon an American tourist an his daughter will very naturally provok onsiderable indignation in this country.

And yet we can do nothing. The inju lady may die, and other. American tourist may be attacked and killed, but it will useless for our government to demand demnity and the punishment of the offen ers. In all such cases it is safe to say that the Italian government will politely inform us that it is not responsible for the action of mob, and that the families of the victir nust seek redress in the Italian courts.

The rule laid down by our state depo ment in the Mafia matter will work both ways. Italy will adopt it in her dealings with us, and what protest can we make? Of course, it will be said that the people of New Orleans killed the eleven members of the Mafia because they were assassins wh escape from justice menaced the public safety. But the Italian government reply that guilt must be determined by courts, and as the Italians killed in New Orleans had either been acquitted, or That not been tried, they were presumably inno

The Talbotton Era tells this sad story which has its origin in Atlanta:
Quite an odd-looking turnout appeared on our streets yesterday. It was composed of two young men giving the names of Stoudenayer, and a very rickety little homemade handcart, in which was a clubby little blue-eved babe apparently not more than three or four months old. Their story condensed is as follows: They were brothers, one of them was the child's father, its mother had died recently in Atlanta, where they had been following the trade of painters. They had no friends in Atlanta and no money. They had brought the child all the way from Atlanta in the little cart. They were en route to Blakely, Ga. to place the child in charge of its grandmother. There were many circumstances

ETCHED AND SKETCHED.

Congressman Charles L. Moses, of the fourth Congressman Charles L. Moses, of the fourth, came up yesterday to the world's fair convention. Mr. Moses is having a rather queer experience right now with his farmer constituents. By some means the impression has gotten out that he is entitled to government documents at present, and he has received hundreds of applications for Uncle Jerry Rusk's horse book. Of course Mr. Moses cannot get the books as they go to members of the last congress, but he is having some difficulty in explaining this to his constituents.

"I see it atated in a western paper," said he, "that there are three Georgia congressmen who will not vote for Crisp for speaker. Of course, will not vote for Crisp for speaker.

"A third party movement? There will be none in Georgia. I don't believe there is a democratic allianceman in the state who would join such a movement; but if they do get up a third party in the west—and it seems they will—then the election of a president will be thrown into the house of representatives. That, of course, means a democratic president. Indeed, from the outlook at present, I don't see how we can help electing a democrat next time. But our nominee must be all right, both on finance and the tariff."

In the Augusta delegation at the world's fai convention yesterday was a young man with a wonderful career. He is H. C. Perkins, the head of wonderful career. He is H. C. Perkins, the head of the Perkins Lumber Company, one of the largest in the south. A few years ago he started out a mere boy without capital with a small lumber yard on the outskirts of Augusta. Today he is one of the lumber kings of the state. His manu-factured lumber is known throughout the country, and he is one of Augusta's most public-spirited citizens. He will have an exhibit at the world's fair that will show up well for the state.

ng Piece of Gossip About a Ne

A Cleveland Club. Several weeks ago a representative of the New York Tariff Reform Club visited At lanta, estensibly for the purpose of establish-ing correspondence here as well as in other points in Georgia.

He very naturally found that everythin and everybody in this neighborhood stood way in the matter of tariff form, but having obtained what should l been this gratifying and satisfactory in-formation he ingered for several days, evi-dently busily engaged at something. Then he hied himself to New York. Considerable speculation was indulged in as to the real purpese of his visit, and The Southern Allian Farmer of this week devotes con space to what, it says, is "the true inwardness of this missionary's visit."

The organ of the ailiance says it was a Cleveland mission, and notifies the ailiance to be on its guard against Cleveland clubs organized under other names.

The paper charges that it is a move against the popular demand for more money, and that it is engineered from Wall street, whose emisarries are at work throughout the country to diseat the will of the people. It compares the Farmers' Alliance to a properly leaded gun, the powder in which must be tariff reform and the shot more money, to be gotten through the coinage of silver, and adds;

The Visit to Atlanta. The following editorial, under the head,

Several weeks ago a sleek-tongued talker from Sew York came to Atlanta and spent some time in our city. He claimed to be a representative of the Tariff Reform Association, and denied coming here in the interest of Grover Cleveland. He mingled freely with our citizens and paid several visits to this office. We couldn't draw him out on the its to this office. We couldn't draw him out on the state of the several visits to this office. We couldn't draw him out on the gled freely with our citizens and paid several visits to this office. We couldn't draw him out on the silver issue, but the whole gist of his argument was that the democratic party must make the next fight on the lines of tariff reform. We suspected that there was "a mouse in the meat tub," and quietly awaited developments. Well, the true inwardness of this missionary's visit has at last conse out. He was a paid emissary of the Cleveland boomers in New York city and delegated to visit the south to feel the public pulse and secretly set at work the machinery to roll the Georgia delegation to our next mational convention into the anti-free silver column. His method is the same game now being attempted by certain alliance-hating and partisian papers. It is the desire of the Wall street clar to coerce the democratic party into making the tariff reform plank paramount to all other issues, and thus secure the nomination of Mr. Cleveland, who is fairly in line with these moneyed autocrats on the financial question. Now, as proof conclusive that such was the mission in Georgia of this so-called tariff reform discipline, we have definite information that, while he was in this city, a Grover Cleveland Club was formed, and it is evidently the work of this Wall street agent. They hoped to thus steal a march on the alliance, and, by a secret organization, capture the fiext democratic convention. But the little scheme will fail. The free-born people of Georgia do not intend to be ruled by any starchamber clau that dare not let the fact of its organization be published to the world.

tice that they cannot force Grover Cleveland as a presidential candidate on the farmers of our state. We want above all else relief from the tyranny of the money power. The free coinage of silver is equally as important as a reform of our tariff laws. We want the financial stringency relieved and enough money put in circulation to transact the business of the country. Alliancemen will demand that any party, to secure their support, must select as its standard-bearer a man who is on the line of their platform, and not one favorable to the money kings of New York. * * No doubt that this so-called New York Tariff Reform Association has many agents in the field to secretly and elandes.

The bazaar at Mrs. Harwood's opens this afternoon at 4 o'clock, and the handsome residence, with its beautiful grounds, will present a brilliant' scene to all who go. There is sure to be a largecrowd of the best patrons, both this afternoon and evening. All the children in Atlants have been, looking forward to this bazaar with eager expectancy, and they have been saving up their dines for the grab bags, candies and other allurements that will tempt them. They, will be out in full force with their nurses this and tomorrow afternoon and form a charming part of the gay scence.

In the evening the scene will increase in beauty; and charm, for the belies and beauties will be there to buy and to sell the various things. Miss Harwood has arranged her advertising scheme most artistically, and those merchants generous enough to contribute to it, will feel their kindness fully repaid, in having their firms so charmingly represented. Some of the loveliest little girls in the city have been selected for selling the articles donated by these firms in bright, beribboned baskets, and the children themselves will make most artistic.

Don't forget the sale of Inman Park lots this afternoon. These lots are nearer the center of the park than any lots sold at the two last sales, and some of them are probably the most desirable lots that have ever been offered. They are sixuated on Edgewood avenue, Delta place, Decatur road, Waddell street and Dixie avenue.

Pirst came the ushers—Dr. N. O. Harris, Judge Ernest C. Kontz, Mr. R. P. Ksy, Mr. C. E. Kiser.

Next followed the attendants in the following order: Miss Minnie Wylie and Mr. A. L. Kontz, Miss Manie Simon, of Savannah, and Mr. Charles Wurm; Miss Kate Sprenger and Mr. G. G. Sprake; Miss Kate Troutwine and Mr. Fred Beitzer.

Following them came the bride with her maid of tor's study with his best man, Mr. A. E. Wheeler. The wedding ceremony was eloquently performed by the Rev. Dr. Barnett, of the First Presbyterian church. The bride looked especially beautiful in a gown of white barrity corded silk. The long train which hung in graceful folds, was of handsome brocaded satin. Across the front of the skirt was a flounce of real duchesse lacejoaught and finished above with a cascade of silk and bunches of lilles of the valley at intervals. The entire front drapery was of the same face and the effect was exceedingly presty. The neck cut slightly V, was cascaded with duchesse lace and flowers. The bridal veil was fastened with diamond pins and lilles of the valley.

TO IMPRACH TEXTIMONY.

The first effort of the defense was to impeach as evidence of Duggar, the brother of Mrs. we, and one of the eye-witnesses.

With that object in view Duggar was called the stand, and was asked if he had made a statement to John C. Burnett, concerning a case. Duggar replied that he had not use any such statement, and did not even to Burnett.

secase. Duggar replied that he had not see any such statement, and did not even now Burnett.

Hon. W. C. Glenn, for the defense, then res and addressed the court and jury, outning the theory of the defense.

He stated that the defendant was acting as peace-maker between Sayre and Duggar, yre having threatened his wife and her other, Duggar, prior to the trouble.

He stated that it could be proven that Sayre dabused his wife on several occasions prior the killing, and that her brother, Duggar, ing informed of it, had come to protect her. Just previous to the shooting he claimed at Sayre had used such harsh language to buggar that the latter had gone out of the som and was walking up and down on the most porch when the trouble occurred ad could not possibly have seen the shooting, is further alleged that Sayre was advancing a Underwood with a knife, and that the latter fired the fatal shots in self-defense.

John C. Burnett was then introduced, but shad vary little to tell. He stated that Dugar had told him that he was on the front more on the porch talking, and that Underwood was wild with iliquor, and that Underwood was wild with iliquor, and that the dear of the men, either Sayre or Underwood, mark that he would "knock one lung out of im," and that the other replied, "You had ster not try it." Shortly afterwards the tall shots were fired.

Defense made a point that Mrs. Sayre, the discipled seventiness of the tragedy, had not ten introduced by the state.

en introduced by the state.

THE WIFE AND BABY.

Mrs. Sayre and the aged mother of her husdred were in the courtroom. Mrs. Sayre had to take in the tarms when she was called to stand.

she laid the little one in the arms of her tile daughter, and advanced to the witness or, with her eyes suffused in tears. Her statement was listened to with the most itense interest, but she did not make any additional testimony. She will that she had been married to the husband for a little more than eleven are. Except when under the influence of mor he had been ever kind and attentive. When drinking he was a little fussy, and on he day in question he used some rough lange toward her.

She then rehearsed the story of how her make and Underwood came in, both drinking, and sat down to dinner. After sitting at a table awhile they began to dispute, and underwood left the room, her husband relating at the table. Soon afterward Underwood returned, and underwood left he brother, Dugu, shot her husband. He staggered forward, and Underwood fired a second shot and then her usband fell face downward, just in the door the adjoining room. She was so frightened dercited that she ran out of the room, and in not know anything thore about the sooting.

de arcited that she ran out of the room, and it not know anything fhore about the coting.

UNDERWOOD'S STORY.

Underwood then took the stand and told his it of the story. He said that a that morning, Tuesday, March 24th, he and syre and his wife rode out to Grant park in a triage. They spent some time out there, and on their return Sayre proposed that they up on Marietta street and get a drink.

He did not remember whether or they up on Marietta street and get a drink.

He did not remember whether or they are dinner before going, but he sought that it was about 2:30 o'clock when sy get home.

He seemed a little at a loss about the thread the narrative, but he remembered that syre told him that his brother-in-law, Dug. It had come to the city for the purpose of meeting his sister, Sayre's wife, from any solence on the part of her husband. He wither staked that Sayre said, "If Duggar was walking up and the said that the went to Sayre and asked him keep quiet, as Duggar was walking up and own outside with a pistol in his hand. He will that he went to Sayre and asked him keep quiet, as Duggar was walking up and own outside with a pistol in his hand. He will that he went to Sayre and asked him keep quiet, as Duggar was walking up and the seep quiet, as Duggar was walking up and some outside with a pistol in his hand. He went to Sayre and asked him keep quiet, as Duggar was walking up and that he went to Sayre and he will not the shooting. He could not member how many shots he fired, but he or ones or twice. Realizing the awful mit of the shooting, he left the use, Duggar giving him his hat as he left, the did't leave hurriedly, and remained its a frie in the shooting, he left the aschooling in and g. ing up, he was streated.

ARGUMENT IN THE CASE.

After the conclusion of the testimony argument began, Mr. Neel, of Rome, opening for the prosecution in a most masterly effort.

Mr. Rankin, of Calhoun, followed, and he delivered an effective plea for law and justice.

Hon. W. C. Glenn followed in one of his most eloquent strains, and the masterly address that he made for the prisoner is a thing long to be remembered.

that he made for the prisoner is a thing long to be remembered.

Then came Solicitor Hill, and never did a man receive an arraignment more scathing in its nature. It was one of the finest efforts of his life and was a masterly review of the case from beginning to end. He insisted that it was a case of murder, pure and simple, and that the question of manslaughter did not enter into the case at all.

Judge Richard H. Clark began charging the jury about 5:30 o'clock, and in his charge he was most explicit in defining every point of law bearing on the case, as revealed by the testimony.

of law bearing on the case, as revealed by the testimony.

Mr. Glenn, for the defense, insisted that the court should charge on the impeachment feature, but Judge Clark declined and stuck to his original charge.

The jury retired and remained in the room for more than an hour. Judge Clark instructed the balliffs in charge to call him if a verdict was reached before 10 o'clock.

The jury was then allowed to go to the Metropolitan hotel, where they spent the night. From there they will go to the courthouse and hand in their verdict this morning.

ELECTING DISTRICT LECTURERS. The Alliance Lecturer for the Fifth District is Chupp of DeKalb.

Yesterday was the day for the election of an alliance lecturer in each of the congressional districts of Georgia.

The method was for the county lecturers, one from each county, to meet at some central point in the district and ballot for a district There are eleven counties in this district, eight of them being represented at the meeting yesterday. The three not represented were Newton, Walton and Spalding.

Newton, Walton and Spakding.

From Henry county was Senator C. T. Zachry; Dr. Ware, member of the legislature from Fayette, represented that county; Mr. Nash, member of the legislature from DeKaib, represented that county; Mr. Bowie was from Fulton, Mr. Irvin from Rockdale, Mr. G. M. Hule from Clayton, Mr. Post from Douglas and Mr. C. P. Standard from Campbell.

They elected President Chupp, of the De-Kaib County Alliance, district lecturer.

The choice was unanimous.

President L. F. Livingston, who was present at the meeting, made a short talk.

Mr. Chupp, in addition to the office of president of the county alliance, was president of the suballiance in DeKaib county. He is a stæmch, orthodox allianceman, and his election as district lecturer will give general satisfaction.

County with His Farm.

General Gordon has secured a "demit," which changes his alliance membership from DeKalb county to Taylor county. He joined the alliance in DeKalb county, but his stock farm is in Taylor county. His business is keeping him on the farm just now, and will for some time, and at his application ings regularly, and takes quite an interest, in a quiet way, in alliance affairs.

Dr. Wharton was to have lectured at Talladega, Ala, tonight, but this with other engagements had to be abandoned.

to be abandoned.

From One That Knows Scott.—The following letter explains itself: Jacksonville, Fiz., May L. Editor Constitution: I have, for some time past, pursued the different articles in your paper concerning Mr. Scott Thornton, the thesplan, with the deepest interest, and I am glad to see that the people of Georgia are commencing to realize what an excellent tragedian they have among them.

One who is not only an honor and a credit to the state of Georgia, but to the country. For he is a tragedian of the first water and as Barrett is now dead and Booth has retired from it, it goes without anying Mr. Thornton is without a rival.

I have seen him perform once and played with him three times, twice in Atlanta and once in Rome, also one act of the "Fool's Revenge" at the deports Kingston, and I pride myself on being critic enough to know that what I say about Scott is correct.

I have talked him up to a number of very prominent theater goes here and feel assured that if he were to favor Jacksonville with one or two nights he would be greeted with a packed house, as all these I have spoken to about it have expressed the strongest desire to see him.

Do you intend going to a picnic this season? We know of nothing more pleasant than a day in the words with an agreeable party and a dinner by the side of some cool, clear spring, is one of life's greatest enjoyments. Now, it is about the dinner we would especially speak. We have added to our well-filled picnic counter. On it you will find everything that you can want to fill your basket. Our French pates are especially fine and of ondless variety. Among them are chicken, grouse, pheasant, quall, woodcock and will duck, and we have reduced the price to 35 cents per can, so that they are within the reach of every one. Then comes deviled ham and tongue and boned chicken and turkey, always popular and deservedly so.

Lunch tongue is fine, and our chipped beef is thinly sliced and of fine quality. We have the finest of imported French sardines, and the flat cans of salmon steak. Both of these last open with with a key, thus saving trouble and keeping the flat intact in opening.

Then you will like our imported whole herring in one-pound tins, also canned lobster and deviled ons.

As most of the fresh fruits have not come in yet you will find nothing better than our fancy California peaches, peas, white cherries and apricots. They are getting a wider reputation and a firmer hold upon the people every day. If you have certainly missed a

IT WAS A GRAND EVENT.

THE PICNIC OF THE ORDER OF

The Long Train to New Holland Was Crowded, and Everybody Had a Delightful Time.

The conductors' picnic at New Holland wa

one of the grandest ever known in Georgia.
Fully 3,000 people were there.
One-half of the crowd went from Atlanta and from points on the Western and Atlantic the Atlanta and West Point and the Central. The train, composed of fifteen passenger oaches, two baggage cars and a chair car, left the union depot at 8 o'clock. Every coach was full, even standing room being in demand The train, though a long one, was one of the prettiest that ever went out of Atlanta. Richmond and Danville cars with their bright red, Georgia road cars with their cate canary color and Central road cars with their shining lead shade made the train.

In its makeup the train pleased everybody And then Messrs. Johnson, Bush, Latimer and Martin saw that every one was satisfactor ily provided for. Before the train left Huff's brass band of fourteen pieces serenaded the picnickers at the union depot. The music was excellent and inspired those who had been hesitating about going so pleasantly that all gave in and helped to swell the crowd.

At 8 o'clock, Atlanta time, the train pulled way from the union depot. The coaches were bannered on both sides, and as it rolled through the yards, rumbling wheels keeping time to the music of the brass band, every one aboard was in high glee.

The biggest and fastest engine on the road was pulling the train. G. B. Beauchamp, one of the best and most careful engineers in the south, was guiding the heavy machine, and Steve Reed, who is now ready for promotion, was doing the firing act.

The committee had a conductor and a corps of assistants in every car to see that every pos-sible want of the Order of Railway Conductors' guests was satisfied. Then the regular uctor, Mr. W. J. Ayers, of the Richmond and Danville, gave the coaches a careful and thorough inspection a dozen times—each time hoping to add something to the pleasure of the day. But he was constantly disappointed be-cause no link in the chain of pleasure was None were wearied by the ride. At Norcross the train made its first stop, and there fully 200 people joined the picnic crowd. The run from Norcross to Gainesville was without run from Norcross to Gainesville was without stop, except to take a sidetrack to allow the south-bound mail train to pass.

All Gainesville, headed by Solicitor General Thompson, was at the depot to greet the Atlantians. Carriages, buggies and hacks were around the depot and ladies and children were upon the pistform to give the vistors a grand send off.

Quite a number of the picnickers left the train and went to the hotels and with friends in the delightful town. There to pass an hour they made a pleasant drive through a beautiful natural park to New Holland.

Just before 10 o'clock the train stopped at New Holland. In a few minutes everybody was out. A half mile's walk took them to New Holland. There every one made a visit to the famous spring first. Then baskets were scattered around through that most beautiful of Georgia groves. The excursionists quickly divided into parties and then the day's fun began in real earnest.

No more delightful or beautiful spot for a picnic could have been selected. Then what nature had not supplied was provided by the committee.

There were swings, hammocks, chairs, enches, tables and rustic rockers scattered about in the shade. And no one who went up neglected these conveniences.

In the meadow below the beautiful spring two lawn tennis courts, a half dozen croquet sets and baseball grounds were arranged. The lawn tennis court and croquet grounds were well patronized and during the entire day were crowded.

Many a fine croquet game was played, but the tennis work was poor—nearly every one being an amateur and a poor one, too.

The swing and chairs were never empty.
Soon after the arrival of the picnickers, the committee having charge of the barbecue, made a tempting spread in the grove just above the spring.

Then in every direction white table linen could be seen upon the ground, and around the d be seen upon the ground, and around the were happy, laughing children, ladies and gentleman.

A line of backs, 'busses and buggies were a drawn up in front of the hotel and these were a drawn up in front of the hotel and these were a drawn up in front of the hotel and then a glance drawn up in front of the hotel and these were a source of much enjoyment. A drive to Gaines-ville for dinner at the hotel and then a glance at the city and its pretty homes proved a delightful recreation for many who had never been on the ridge before.

The hotel doors at the springs were thrown open and the Huff string band opened the ball. The music was excellent and the dancing was greatly enjoyed.

Gainesville sent large delegations over to the springs, and the good, open-hearted generous people of that growing, progressive city mingled most cordially with the Atlantians. So much like the Gaite City people were the Gainesville folks that a formal request from Gainesville's mayor was made to the committee to continue the picnic for a month.

That was just like Gainesville.

Warm-hearted, generous and progressive people live there, and Atlantians would have been welcome forever.

The mayor, the sheriff and the solicitor general were sorry when the day was over.

The mayor, the sheriff and the solicitor general were sorry when the day was over.

Up to 5 o'clock the Order of Railroad Conductors' guests had a most delightful time. Delightful because every one had the freedom of the beautiful groves, healthful air and bright skies.

Shortly after 5 o'clock the engine gave its warning and the people began flocking to the train. In a short time the ballroom, the croquet field, the swings, chairs and groves were deserted.

And every one was anxious for the pleasant ride home.

With Huff's band playing, the train started. And with Huff's band playing, the train stopped under the union depot at 5 o'clock last night.

The ride home was just as pleasant as the ride to New Holland.

Of all Atianta's picnics, none has ever been pleasanter than the Order of Railway Conductor's. Messrs. Johnson, Latimer, Bush and Mactin worked zealously to perfect it, and they succeeded beyond their most sanguin desires.

Among those who were present as invited guests were Train Master Freent it.

Again the picnic was a grand royal success.

"Something must be done," said Major Slaten yesterday. "At present the Girls' High school is taxed beyond its seating capacity, and more room is needed. He said: Gentlemen of the Convention: The purpose of our assembling I am sure is fully known to you and to the people of the state. The prompt response you have made is sufficient indication that the citizens of Georgia are determined to be properly and worthily represented at the world's fair. It remains now for the convention to determine the character and extent of the exhibit and the ways and means of securing it. The character, it appears to me, should be in every way worthy of the sineral, the agricultural and the pars to me, should be in every way worthy of the mineral, the agricultural and the manufacturing mources, as will have a tendency to build up the state and give us usany more good citizens.

It also occurs to me that our exhibit should compare favorably with those of all other states. Georgia has won the same of the Empire State of the south. She cannot now afford to be second to see If we maintain our former provide resistions. . If we maintain our former proud position exhibit should be worthy of this day of pro

Having settled by your prompt response that Georgia intends to be represented at the world's fair, the question now is, how shall we do so?

Until recently the opinion has obtained that the general assembly of Georgia cannot constitutionally make an appropriation. There have been epinions to the contrary in the press, and I have invited several distinguished gentlemen of the mate to address the convention on the subject. ME. COBB'S ADDRESS.

Mr. Andrew J. Cobb, of Athens, addressed the convertion, giving his plan for using the state road lease money.

The gener I assembly has all power, he said, makes it has been daken away by the constitution of the state's making the exhibit, an appropriation of money by the state for that purpose would not be repugnant to the constitution of the United States. The question to be considered them is, whether such an appropriation of money by the state would be consistent with the constitution of the state.

the state.

That such an appropriation is necessary for the welfare of the state is to be admitted. The experience of other states that have appropriated money for like purposes demonstrates that the welfare of a state is subserved by such a use of the public money, and I believe that it is generally admitted that an appropriation for the purposes of an exhibit should be made if, under the constitution of the state, it can be lawfully done. If the power to appropriate money for this pur-constitution of the state, it can be lawfully done. If the power to appropriate money for this purpose has nowbeen taken away by the constitution, the general assembly possesses that power. Has it been taken away? Let us see. The constitution provides that "the powers of taxation over the whole state shall be exercised by the general assembly for the following purposes only: for the following purposes only:

For the support of the state government and the public institutions.

For educational purposes, in instructing children in the elementary branches of an English education only.

To pay interest on the public debt.

To pay the principal on the public debt.

To suppress insurrection, to repell invasion and defend the state in time of war.

To provide pensions for certain confederate soldiers and the widows of certain soldiers.

This clause forbids the appropriation of any money raised by taxation over the whole state since 1877 for the purpose of making the exhibit contemplated, and it would also forbid the use of any property of the state, corpus or income, which has been acquired by the state since 1877 with money raised by taxation over the whole state.

Therefore, for the purposes of this argument, it is to be conceded that no tax can be levied to raise money to secure the exhibit.

The taxation power for this purpose being taken away from the general assembly, and the use of property acquired since 1877 with tax money being inconsistent with the constitution, the next inquiry to be made is, Does the state own any property into the purchase price of which there has not entered any money raised by taxation since 1877? The Western and Atlantic railroad fully answers to this description, it having been acquired by the state prior to 1877, and was at the time of the adoption of the constitution operated under a lease from the state.

The constitution of 1877 refers to this property only once, and in this language: "The proceeds of the sale of the Western and Atlantic railroad,

The constitution of 1877 refers to this property only once, and in this language: "The proceeds of the sale of the Western and Atlantic railroad, whenever the general assembly may authorize the sale, shall be applied to the payment of the bonded debt of the state, and shall not be used for any other purpose so long as the state has any existing bonded debt, provided that the proceeds of the sale of the Western and Atlantic railroad shall be applied to the negment of the local for switch. be applied to the payment of the bonds for which said railroad has been mortgaged in preference to said railroad has been mortgaged in preference to all other bonds."

The constitution is silent as to the appropriation of the income of this railroad, although at the time the constitution was formed the road under an existing lease produced an annual income of $300,000. This income, not being directed by the constitution to be applied in any particular way, it is to be ascertained, whether to use it for the desired exhibit would be inconsistent with the constitution.

be ascertained, whether to use it for the desired exhibit would be inconsistent with the constitution.

The limitations imposed by the constitution upon the power of the general assembly to appropriate money, and the denial of powers to the general assembly by the constitution, must be looked to in order to determine this question.

The constitution says "that no money shall ever be taken from the public treasury, directly or indirectly, in aid of any church, sect, or denomination of religion, or of any sectarian institution." Of course an appropriation for an exhibit would not conflict with this provision.

"The credit of the states," says the constitution, "shall not be pledged or loaned to any individual, company, corporation or association, and the state shall not become a joint owner in any company, association or corporation. An appropriation of money for this exhibit would not be inconsistent with this section. The state, in making an exhibit of her resources, pledges or loans her credit to no person or corporation. She becomes a joint owner in no corporation or association. The exhibit is an advertisement. In this advertisement the state is to make a prominent display of her products, minerals, woods, and other resources. She is to have compiled in circulars or otherwise information concerning the water powers of the state, the climate of the state, the industrial and educational prospects of the people, and all information of a like character. The display is intended to call the attention is so called by the distribution of such circulars. The state is to gather together, at her own expense, the material necessary for a wise and judicious advertisement. She is to rent space on the exposition grounds in Chicago, where her advertisement shall attract the eyes of all nations of the earth.

The constitution further provides that "the general assembly shall not, by vote, resolution or order, grant any donation or gratuity in favor of any person, corporation or association.

association.

The Western and Atlantic railroad is the property of the people of Georgia. The people have said in their constitution that the proceeds of the saile of this property shall be used for one purpose only, but they have imposed no restriction upon their chosen representatives, the general assembly, as the use of the income, so long as the road remains the property of t so long as the road remains the property of the state, and therefore the general assembly has the same power over this income that an individual would have over an annuity that is subject to no other condition than those stated above. If an individual had an annuity granted to him upon the express condition that he should not held the state of the condition that he should not held to always the condition that he should not held the state of the condition that he should not held the state of the condition that he should not held the state of the condition that he should not held the state of the condition that he should not held the state of the condition that he should not held the state of the condition that he should not be supposed to th above. If an individual had an annuty granted to him upon the express condition that he should not piedge his credit to any one; should not become a joint owner or a stockholder in a company corporation or association, and that he should not grant a donation or gratuity to any one, no one would pretend that those conditions would prohibit such person from using a part or all of his annuity in advertising property in which he was interested directly or indirectly, so as to increase its value or to enlarge the profits arising therefrom. So it will be with the state. If the attention of capital is directed to this state by a display of her resources, and an investment of money within the state follows as a resuit, while single individuals may be the direct beneficiaries of the good results, the whole state derives an indirect benefit from the increase of taxable property, thus bringing about a diminution of the burdens of taxation. The general weifare is promoted, and the general weifare is promoted, and the general weifare of any community can only be promoted by bringing about the welfare of the individuals that compose it. But thas been said that the use of the rental of the state road for this purpose would violate the spirit of the constitution, and that it would be a technical evasion of the constitution. As I understand this objection, it is contended that to use this rental would be contrary to "public policy." The public policy, or the policy of the state, so far as it may bear upon this question, is to be determined by the constitution is the difference of the prohibited by law, the doing of that act is of course a violation of that law. If a particular act is not in terms prohibited by law, the doing of that act is of course a violation of that law. If a particular act is not in terms prohibited by law, the doing of the law, and would have no redess in the courts with his particular act and would be a violation of the law. The man who plays and betting the same at cards would do an act that is contary t existence at that time, its life was limited, and it a strict construction of the constitution was followed, the general assembly would have been powerless to continue an office which, it is to be supposed, the convention knew was to die in a certain time.

Instances of legislative construction of the various clauses in the constitution, authorizing the exercise of powers not expressly conveyed, and authorizing the exercise of powers not within the strict meaning of the words of the constitution, but still so near thereto as to be legitimately implied, might be multiplied indefinitely, and the exercise of such powers cannot be said to violate the spirit of the instrument. The decisions of the courts and the acts of the general assembly unimpeached in the courts demonstrate that we may leave the letter of the constitution and still be within the limits of its spirit.

An advertisement by the state through the medium of an exhibit at the Columbian exposition in Chicago, in 1883, being considered by all presents accessive and proper for the welfare of tion in Chicago, in 1895, being considered by all persons necessary and proper for the welfare of the state, and the use of the rental of the state road for that purpose being consistent with the constitution, both in letter and in spirit, the constitution, both in letter and in spirit, the power of the general assembly to bring about the great benefit to be derived to the state and her people through this means is complete. Interested as a citizen of the state in every matter that affects her welfare, and being thoroughly satisfied that to lose the opportunity which is offered to the state to advertise herself to the world would be a serious mistake, if not a fatal blumder, and being fully aware of my obligation to the state as a citizen, and the obligation of the oath that binds me as an attorney at law to support and defend the constitution of the state of Georgia, I present the foregoing views to your consideration, which to my tution of the state of Georgia, I present the fore-going views to your consideration, which to my mind clearly maps out a plan to be followed which will not do violence to the constitution of the state, and which could not be inconsistent with the conscience of the most upright citizen.

Mr. Cobb's address was received with applause. CAPTAIN JACKSON'S PLAN.

Captain Harry Jackson did not agree with Mr. Cobb that the state road money could be used constitutionally, but there was a fund that could be used constitutionally, and that was the proceeds of the sale of the Okefenokee swamp. "It amounts to $63,000," he said. "That is a sum of money coming from a grant from the crown of England, and in no way comes from taxation: It can be used. It comes as a windfall at this time, and I believe we can make an exhibit on $60,000. I therefore offer the following resolution: That the general assembly be requested to appropriate $60,000 from the proceeds of the sale of the Okefenokee swamp lands, or any other available fund, provided it can be done onstitutionally."

Mr. R. J. Powell, of Pike, moved to amend by inserting $100,000, and Captain Jackson accepted it.

Mr. Hoke Smith, however, read from the onstitution the clause providing that the proceeds of the sale of the Western and Atlantic road or any other property shall be used to pay the bonded debt of the state and for no other purpose. But he saw no reason why the rental from the State road could not be used. "The money must come from this source, Another question is whether by private subscription we can raise enough money to make

Mr. H. P. Bell, of Forsyth, said it could be safely assumed that the people of the entire state favored an exhibit, and he moved that a committee of eleven be appointed to which all propositions for providing means be referred. Hon. Jesse J. Bull, of Talbot, said his county had always shown up well at exposi-tions, and would show up at Chicago. The people, he said, have an idea that it would be unconstitutional for the legislature to appro-priate. Somebody, he thought, would issue an injunction to stop it, and, therefore, he thought the matter should be submitted to the neonle.

Hon. P. L. Mynatt, being called upon for an pinion, stated that the legislature could as well make an appropriation for an exhibit at the world's fair as for a geological bureau or other matters that it now appropriates for. The language of the constitution, he said, means we can make appropriations for the welfare of legislature should not hesitate one moment more to make an approbeautify the capitol grounds. Such an anpropriation is necessary to the welfare of the state. It would be very unpleasant not to have Georgia represented at the fair. If the legislature makes this appropriation, who would stop it? How are you going to stop it? Nobody but the governor has that power. "It is my opinion that the state can appropriate for this purpose."

Hon. Patrick Walsh, of Augusta, then made a ringing speech, declaring that the general assembly had just as much right to make this appropriation as it had to make many others that have been made, such as the geological bureau, branch colleges, etc. "We came here to provide means for the exhibit," he said. "The people want it, and the legis-lature can and should appropriate for it. The people will sustain them. It will be in no sense a donation, but an actual advertisement of our state's resources. Shall an exhibit of the resources of our state be prohibited by our constitution?"
The convention then adjourned until 2:30 o'clock to give the committee time to prepare a report.

Afternoon Session.

A resolution prepared by Mrs. Felton was adopted requesting Georgia's representatives at the fair to appear at the opening, and from time to time in suits of clothes made of Georgia manufactured electric Georgia manufactured cloths.

A resolution was also passed that the fair should be closed on Sunday.

The committee appointed in the morning then reported the following resolution, which then reported the following resolution, which was unanimously adopted:

This convention fully recognising the importance of Georgia being properly represented at the world's Columbian exposition at Chicago in 1803, and being here in response to the call of our governor, do resolve,

1. That the legislature of this state be requested to appropriate $100,000 for the purpose of enabling the state of Georgia to make an exhibition of her resources at the world's Columbian exposition for 1803.

2. That a permanent committee of one from each congressional district and two from the state at large be appointed for the purpose of carrying into effect the objects of this convention.

The following committee, under the resolution, was appointed: Captain Harry Jackson and General C. A. Evans, from the state at large, and from the congressional districts in order: A. T. Putnam, of Brunswick; O. B. Stavens, of Terrell; W. L. Glesaner, of Americus; Louis M. Gerrard, of Culumbus; Hoka Smith, of Atlants; R. W. Jemison, of Mason; Reaborn Wrighs, of Rome; Andrew J. Cobb, of Athens; F. C. Tate, of Pickens; Pat Walsh, of Augusta.

Mr. Seaborn Wright, of Rome, then made quite an eloquent speech on the resources of northwest Georgia, which only needed adver-tising to bring people to it. This was a signal for other speeches advertising different sec-tions of the state. Hon. Pat Walsh spoke eloquently and enthusiastically for Augusta, in-viting the convention and the entire state to the Augusta exposition, opening November 2d and closing November 28th. Mr. S. A. Darnell spoke for northeast Georgia, Mr. Jesse Bull for western Georgia, Mr. J. F. Joy for the wiregrass and pine lands, and others. General C. A. Evans then introduced a Root, of Georgia, as the controlling architect of the fair buildings Mr. Richardson in an eloquent speech told of the fame of the late Mr. Root as an architect. The resolution was adopted and the convention adjourned.

THE NEW YORK STOCK MARKET.

Exchange.

7 YORK, May 6.—The waiting attitude of the NEW YORK, May 6.—The waiting attitude of the stock market was more fully exemplified today, and although there was fairly active business transacted in a few leading shares, there was only the usual narrow movement of prices with no decisive movements. The prevailing temper of the market was firm, however, though it changed from time to time as the views of local operators changed for better or worse. The weakness of Louisville under pressure was one of the features of early trading, while the strength in Wheeling and Lake Erie shares was another. Outside of the activity in St. Paul, Chicago Gas and Atchison at times there was no other special feature of interest. Inactive stocks were completely neglected, and not only was the number traded in reduced, but movement among them was entirely lacking. The opening was made at irregular changes from last evening's figures. The stiffening tendency of last evening soon became apparent in advancing figures which, however, never parent in advancing figures which, however, never t far away from those of the opening. Selling by midon caused a sharp reaction, which took prices totionally below the level of first sales. Louisville fractionally below the level of first sales. Louisville declined 1 per cent., but Wheeling and Lake Erie preerred arose a like amount. The downward movement was short-lived, and in the afternoon the confident feeling became so pronounced that a full rally followed in the general list. Further exports of gold were made today, the full amount going out being $2,500,000. These reports have tended to depress the market and were instrumental today in making the early downward movement. The movement on foot market and were instrumental today in making the early downward movement. The movement on foot in the Argentine Republic to place that country on a silver basis would lead to a large export of silver from the United States to an advance in the value of silver. The final dealings in the stock market were marked by few movements among low-priced shares, Hocking Valley being prominent with a gain of 1½ per cent, but the general list was content with fractional advances. The market, however, while quiet, closed atrong and confident at the highest prices of the day. There was the usual quiet business in railroad bonds, Sales, listed, 248,000 shares; unlisted, 18,000 shares. Aschange quiet and steady at 4866,490; commercia bills 4846487½. THE CHICAGO MARKET.

Features of the Speculative Movement in Grain and Provisions.

Grain and Provisions.

CHICAGO, May 8.—It was the turn of the bulls of wheat to have an inning on the board of trade-today, and they improved it by putting the price up 2%c. This was not secomplished without opposition from the bears, however, and the upward course of prices was marked by a number of sharp reactions. Bellevers in lower prices are still confident in their position, and are predicting a still further reduction in values of 10c per bushel, or about 25c from the top figures of two weeks ago. The conditions today were largely in favor of the bull movement; the first of importance in this behalf was a reduction of the French tariff on wheat and flour estimated to be equivalent to 13½ per bushel. Foreigners were reported to have bought wheat at the scaboard. There was less pressure to sell, and at times offerings were very light. That market responded wearily to the demand. About the only news favorable to the bears was weaker and lower foreign markets. On each break, however, the bear crowd was freely buying, and but few of them sold very heavily on the subsequent rises. July wheat started at 8½c, speedily sold to 99½c, broke to 98½c and then improved to 99¼c, fell back to 98½c and then improved to 99¼c, fell back to 98½c and then improved to 99¼c, fell back to 98½c and then improved to 99¼c, fell back to 98¼c and then improved to 99¼c, fell back to 98¼c and then improved to 99¼c, fell back to 98¼c and then improved to 99¼c, fell back to 98¼c and then improved to 99¼c, fell back to 98¼c and then improved to 99¼c, fell back to 98¼c and then improved to 99¼c, fell back to 98¼c and then improved to 99¼c, fell back to 98¼c and then improved to 99¼c, fell back to 98¼c and then improved to 99¼c, fell back to 98¼c and then improved to 99¼c, fell back to 98¼c and then improved to 99¼c, fell back to 98¼c and then improved to 99¼c, fell back to 98¼c and then improved to 99¼c, fell back to 98¼c and then improved to 99¼c.

$1.00\(\frac{1}{2}\), but weakened before the close to $1.00.

A much better feeling was manifested in corn with less pressure to sell and more inclination to buy, the result being a much steadier undertone than for several days past. Receipts were light, cables were rather better and prices in New York were higher. July opened at $60\infty$50\infty$60, and with one or two reactions sold up to $1\infty$61\infty$6, closing $\infty$5 below that figure.

Outs followed wheat and corn, and the close shows an advance in the ruling option of ic compared with vesterday.

Around $12.30 for July a lot of stop-loss orders in pork came in, and their execution depressed the price to $11.30. Thereafter, in sympathy with the cereals, the market strengthened and July pork sold up to $12.50, but closed 7½c lower than that, though 12½c above yesterday's closing price. July lard closed 12½c higher and July ribs 17½c higher.

The Petroleum Market.

NEW YORK, May 8—The petroleum market was extremely dull all day, the only trading being in June options, which opened steady, advanced %c and then became dull and remained so until the close, losing the early advance.

Its to the city.
This project requires two pumping stations—lower one near the river at the mouth of Pachtree creek, and an upper one at the clear water basin situated at the source of Woodali's of engines to pump the water from the river to the clear water basin. The upper station would

As the basin has a capacity for storing 35,000,-100 gallons, it is not necessary to provide for implicate machinery at the lower station. Therefore, the estimate includes only one 4,000,000 gallon and one 6,500,000 gailon en-gine. The machinery pumping into the city mains, however, must have a capacity suffi-dent to allow for one engine to be under re-pairs while the other two pump the full sup-

The filters might be located either at the fiver, where they would have to work under an extreme head of 258 feet, or at the reserveir, where they would have to work under shead of only twenty feet.

The total estimated cost, under this plan, is $729.925.

The Randall's Shoals Plan.

Below is given the report of Engineer Clay-lon and Superintenden t Richards on the Ran-dall's shoals plan:

the minimum flow of the river, 500 cubic feet per second.

A dam ten feet high and 1,100 feet long on Randail's shoal, and a branch leading therefrom, sixty feet wide and eight feet deep, to a point 2,600 feet below the shoal at Leng Islamd creek, at which point we obtain a fall of five feet in addition to the hight of the dam, will obtain a minimum of 681 horse power. This will be ample to operate a set of prinnping machinery through all easons, and through seasons of lowest water and least power, antil such time as the quantity required in twenty-four hours should exceed 18,000,000 gallons. In making the calculation of the power obtainable from the minimum flow of the river, we have allowed one-half of a cubic required in twenty-four hours should exceed 18.00,000 gailons. In making the calculation of the power obtainable from the minimum flow of the river, we have allowed one-half of a cubic foot per second per square mile for the entire drainage area of the Chattahoochee basin. In Captain Locke's report on the water power of G-orgia streams, he estimates the Austell (Randall's) thould be succeed the streams, he estimates the Austell (Randall's) thould be succeed the streams, he estimates the Austell (Randall's) thould be succeed the streams, he estimates the Austell (Randall's) thould be succeed the streams, he estimates the Austell (Randall's) thould be succeeded to the streams, he estimates the power upon which we have stimated and which we consider safe. We find that authorities vary so much that we have thought it best to keep well to the safe side in estimating for a work of this importance. We possibly may have been overcautious, but we learn from Capt. Geyesin, of Philadelphia, that the flow of the Schupikill at Fairmount dams one, fittle less than our estimate of the minimum flow of the Chattahoochee, his estimate of the Schupikill being four tenths of a cubic foot per mile of drainage area.

It will be safe to accept that during more than half of the year there will be sufficient power oblained to transmit enough electric force to operate the pumps at the upper station. In any event there is no power that might be adopted that must not be sumplemented by an auxiliary of some sort; therefore, we recommend a well-equipped steam plant at the upper station to consist of a new 6,000,000 high-duty pumping engine and boilers complete, and the removal of the largest of the two pumps at the old station to this point. Nothing less than this would we deem at all safe. We have therefore concluded to advise that the storage reservoir might be rected. We have therefore concluded to advise that the storage reservoir be located as in the report of Mr. Herring and previously endorsed by as namely, at the head of Woodall bra AND NEW ORLEANS BE WEST POINT RAILROAD 05 pm 11 30 pm 4 35 pm 7 35 pm 1 10 am 6 30 pm 8 49 pm 2 24 am 7 40 pm 2 17 pm 2 56 am 8 15 pm 10 05 pm 3 48 am of the opinion that the city may economically be lighted from a steam plant located at the upper pamping station.

We find that a storage reservoir, or settling hatin, may be constructed in the "Randall bottoms" that will hold, approximately, 100,000,000 gallons at an additional cost of $100,000.

It will be observed, by comparing the following estimate with estimate furnished by us, and to be found on page 275 of the reports of city officers for 1890, that the water power plant from Randall's shoal will cost $33,000 more than a steam plant at a point near the mouth of Peachtree creek. It remains for your honorable body to decide whether the henefits to be obtained by the additional outlay would warrant the expenditure. We are compelled to admit that we have been reluctantly driven to the conclusion that they will not. Especially when we are obliged to admit that the growth of the city and the consequent increase of the demands for water will demonstrate that a water power plant at Randall's shoal will, ere many lears clapse, cease to turnish the power required.

Mr. Watkins was appointed agent of the society and has since been actively in the field. The society desires to enlarge its sphere of usefulness in educating the people that dumb creatures are entitled to consideration and have bodies with feeling which should not be abused.

At the last regular meeting the constitution was so altered as to provide for a superintendent and Mr. A. B. Carrier was elected to fill of men learn to be kind. Only in flagrant cases will we immediately resort to the law, otherwise our policy will be to admonish the offenders and endeavor to persuade them that it is due to their own manhood not to deal harshly with the animals which they may own, or which may be under their care. If, then, it is seen that gentle methods will not induce a person to desist from cruel treatment, then, when not a frivolous case, but a case that will stick, car a rivolous case, but a case that will stick, can be made against them, they will be brought before the courts to answer. "It is undoubtedly cruel to crowd a small coop with chickens—a coop that does not give them room enough to stand erect in which they are so huddled together that it is with difficulty they can get breath. And in addition to this to permit the coop to stand in the hot sun, almost burning the chickens alive. The way these coops are handled by the express companies is needlessly cruel. The chickens, seeking the pure air, will put their heads through the holes in the coop, when, regardless of bruising their heads, another coop will be thrown on top of it.

"We will endeavor to stop such methods of treating and handling chickens, not by harsh means but by calling the attention of those under whose supervision such things occur to the useless injury and pain it inflicts. Of course if this is not successful we will have to resort to the law.

Honorable Board of Water Commissioners—Genlemen: The following we give as the result of our investigation in the direction of swater power pumping plant at the Chattahoothee river. The only point on the river at which such a plant could be located, with a view of comarison with a steam plant located at the point shere Peachtree creek empties into the river, is front four miles up the river from Peachtree speek, at what is known as Randall's shoal. The bed of the river at this point is favorable for the construction of a dam, and the bottom lands on the east bank enable the construction of a canal or race at comparatively small cost. There is an abundance of stone manediately in the river bluffs, and the general situation is such as to render the development of all the water power available no

The estimate is based upon what we consider as

At first we will request that while standing the check be lowered, until the people are educated to think that a position which is not natural is neither elegant or beautiful."

"How about docking horses?"

"A fad is one of the most difficult things to overcome, and men and women will subject themselves and animals to physical suffering for the sake of fashion. Without doubt it is cruel to so mutilate a horse that he has no way to protect himself from the files.

"It is not the intention of the society," continued Mr. Carrier, "to create a great sit about such a thing, for men have their individual way of thinking; but we start with a kindly effort, appearing to reason to prevent animals from being mutilated. We wish by our manner of dealing with the quession of humane treatment to animals, to secure the approbation of the newspapers, the pastors of all the churches, and all who wish to see less suffering of every kind in the world."

"In what way will you ascertain those who ill treat their animals?"

"The agent will make a daily report covering the cuttre city, and a record of all the cases will be kept, so that at any time, how and by whom a child or animal has been mistreated can be known, and the public may see that the society does not groundlessly set the machinery of the law in motion, but is using its best efforts by other means to correct the abuses to which children and animals are often subjected."

O'Clock P. M.

The Baptists for Birmingham will be here this morning by the hundreds en route for the Magic City. They will leave here vis the Georgia Pacific railway upon a most excellent passenger service, arranged by Superintendent W. B. Ryder, and General Passenger Agent Hardwick. The first train will leave here today at 10:15 o'clock A. m. sharp, and will carry Dr. Lansing Burrows's party-from Augusta, Ga., and a large number of Charlestonians. They have two special sleepers which are handsomely decorated. At 1:10 o'clock p. m. the great Baptist special will pull out of the union depot, carrying Governor Northen and a large delegation from the southern states. The train will be composed of elegant thoroughfare coaches Pullman finish buffet cars. The schedule of this train as so arranged as to take up connections of all lines into Atlanta arrive at Birmingham at 7 o'clock p. m., making only four stops from Atlanta to Birmingham. The night express leav-sat 11:40 o'clock p. m., will carry a large delegation from the Carolinas and Georgia. This train will have extra coaches and sleepers to accomodate the travel. The management of the Georgia Pacific railway has made every preparation to give the Baptists and their friends a most excellent service over their line upon the occasion of the meeting of the southern Haptist convention. Probably no attraction ever brought to Atlanta will create more interest than the wonderful cy-lorama, "Battle of Atlanta," which is soon to be placed on exhibition here.

over 500,000 visitors. It is universally acknowledged to be the most realastic battle scene ever placed on canyas.

This great attraction has recently been purchased by Panl M. Atkinson, C. L. Brown and Captain T. A. Frierson, of Chattanooga, who also own the cyclorama "Storming of Mission Ridge and Lookout Mountain," which they have on exhibition at Chattanooga, and which is attracting large crowds from all over the country.

These enterprising gentlemen are now negotiating for a site on which to locate the attraction. Atlanta welcomes them, and will extend them every courtesy.

Their attraction is one that will prove not only a source of great pleasure to our people but a wonderful advertising medium to our city.

The following explains itself:

"CHATTAROODA, Tenn., M.y 5, 1891.—Atlanta Constitution: Please announce in your columns that we want a location for the cyclorama Battle of Atlanta, which we wish to place on exhibition in Atlanta. We want to get as near in as possible and near the electric car line. Size of building will be 50 feet high and 400 ret in circumference. The attraction will draw 100,000 visitors in twelve months. Gone madthe person with bad blood who's not taking Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. You are bereft of judgment and good sense if you allow your blood to get out of order, your liver sluggish-life dull, everything blue, for you may soon find out that you're in the grave or next to it -because you did not procure the G. M. D. soon enough, and some dread disease, may be influenza or consumption, may be typhoid or malarial fever, has taken you. Consumption is Lung Scrofula. For Scrofula in its myriad forms, and for all Liver, Blood and Lung diseases, the "Discovery" is an unequaled remedy. Everybody, now and then, feels "run-down" "playedout,"-with no power to generate vitality, in fact, just too sick to be well. That's where the right kind of medicine comes in, and the "Discovery" does for a dollar what the doctor wouldn't do for less than five

We claim that nothing like it has been discovered for a blood-purifier. It's guaranteed by the makers. Your money is returned if it dosen't benefit or cure you.

THE WITHDRAWAL OF THE EAST TENNESSEE.

Is It the Depot Question in Disguise?-Talks with Railroad Men-Future of the Southern Passenger Association.

What will be the future of the Southern Passenger Association?

And what will be the future of rates? These two questions are the most impor-tant and the most talked of just now in railroad circles. The cause of it all is the withdrawal of the East Tennessee road, quickly followed by that of the Georgia Southern and Florida railway from the Southern Passenger

There was a good deal of talk about the refusal of the association to allow the low rates which the East Tennessee road wanted to make to Brunswick for the Knights of Pythias and the Moreland Park cadets.

"So far as that is concerned," said a gentle-man connected with the East Tennessee rail-road, "the withdrawal has been inevitable for the past six months. This late occurrence is only a sample of the difficulties we have encountered in the association. The East Tennessee road withdrew in order to be at liberty. When there is a convention or public gathering, to make such rates as will make business."

This gentleman was not the head of any department, but is in position to know the drift of the feeling of the East Tennessee people.

Is It the Depot Question in Disguise? A gentleman unconnected with the East ennessee or the Western and Atlantic, but engaged in the passenger department of another road running out of Atlanta, took quite another view of the matter.

of the matter.

"The bottom of the whole business, I think, is this," said he. "The Western and Atlantic road kept the East Tennessee out of the union depot, and that made the latter mad. Now the East Tennessee has withdrawn from the association in order to bring the Western and Atlantic to terms. The whole thing looks to make it is a bluff game.

me like a bluff game.

"I would wager that the East Tennessee would go back into the association if it could get into the carshed. This move is to bring about that result, but I don't think the bluff will work on the Western and Atlantic."

A gentleman familiar with the Southern Assenger Association's workings was asked why the Brunswick rates were refused.

"Because," said he, "three years' trial demonstrated that those low rates do not pay, and the members of the association, whose vote decides the question, did not grant the application."

whose vote decides the question, did not grant the application."

In regard to the rumor that the withdrawal was a move to get into the carshed, he said: "I have heard nothing of it, and I don't see how it could be; if the East Tennessee should cut rates, the Western and Atlantic would meet them, and there would be a loss of revenue to both roads."

"Does this withdrawal mean a rate war?"

"If there is anything in the talk about the movel to get into the depot I should think there would be some rate cutting, jotherwise the withdrawal does not necessarily imply that. The Louisville and Nashville and the Queen and Crescent roads have been out of the association some time, but there has been no rate cutting against the association.

the association some time, but there has been no rate cutting against the association.

"But judging from the experience of other roads under similar circumstances, I think we may expect some rate cutting. The lines between Chicago and St. Paul break up their traffic association every two or three years, and the rate cutting gets so bad that they are forced to reorganize within a few months.

they are forced to reorganize within a new months.

"The Southern Passenger Association was organized in 1885, when things got so bad that something had to be done. They were selling tickets from Knoxville to Atlanta for $3.25, Maoon $3.75, and Savannah $4. That gave the Western and Atlantic 25 cents from Dalton to Macon, 75 cents from Dalton to Savannah. Rates to St. Louis and Memphis were cut in proportion. The Southern Passenger Association was then organized, I think at the suggestion of the Louisville and Nashville."

'What are the objects sought to be attained the association, chiefly maintenance of "Maintenance of rates is had now, to a great *Maintenance of rates is had now, to a reat extent, without the association, but much better with it. The association is a great convenience, both to the public and to the roads. Now, a man who wants a rate, say for the Scotch-Irish congress, has to apply to one man here. Before, he had to apply separately to the twenty-one roads in the association. Every one of the twenty-one roads had to take up the matter by correspondence. Now we do the work for them, and one stenographer writes a letter where twenty-one stenographers wrote letters where twenty-one stenographers wrote letters before. The saving of labor is much greater than the expense of the association."

"Do you see any signs of disintegration in the association?"

"Do you see any signs of disintegration in the association?"
"I can't say that I do. The withdrawal of the East Tennessee has been followed by that of the Georgia Southern and Florida, a competitor on business from Macon to Florida. It may be that the Georgia Southern and Florida withdraw so as to be free to meet the competition of the East Tennessee in that section. The East Tennessee reaches a great many points in the Southern Passenger Association, but I do not see that its withdrawal will break up this organization. Two years ago the Louisville and Nashville puiled out, followed by the Mobile and Ohio, the Illinois Central, the Louisville, New Orleans and Texas, the Queen and Crescent and the and Texas, the Queen and Crescent and the Nashville, Chattanooga and St. Louis. In spite of that, one still survives."

The total mileage embraced in the Southern Passenger Association is 10,000. Of this the East Tennessee has 1,100 and the Georgia Southern and Florida 285—together about 14 per cent.
